Big Red Machine Rolls On!

The Southwest Football Team coached by Head Coach Edgar Hatcher and Assistants A. Sharpe, R. Hudson, D. Grube, J. Hammond, C. Barden, E. Ashley and H. Appling gained momentum and strength over last year, and their much improved record illustrated this fact. The Patriots finished the season with an overall record of 7-4, and a region record of 5-2. This was definitely a great improvement over last year's tally of 3-7. With their improved conference record, the Patriots took games from both cross-town rivals, Central and Northeast, which enabled them to win the coveted City Championship and, allowed them to compete in the Region 4AAAA Playoffs.

The Patriots accomplished many things through the duration of the 1987 football season. They started the season off with an impressive five game winning streak. The best accomplishment was when the Patriots cracked into the ASSOCIATED PRESS prep ranking at Number Eight after a dramatic 31-30 victory over Baldwin County High School. This outstanding team also went as high as Number Five in the state of Georgia in Class AAAA — the largest and toughest class in the state.

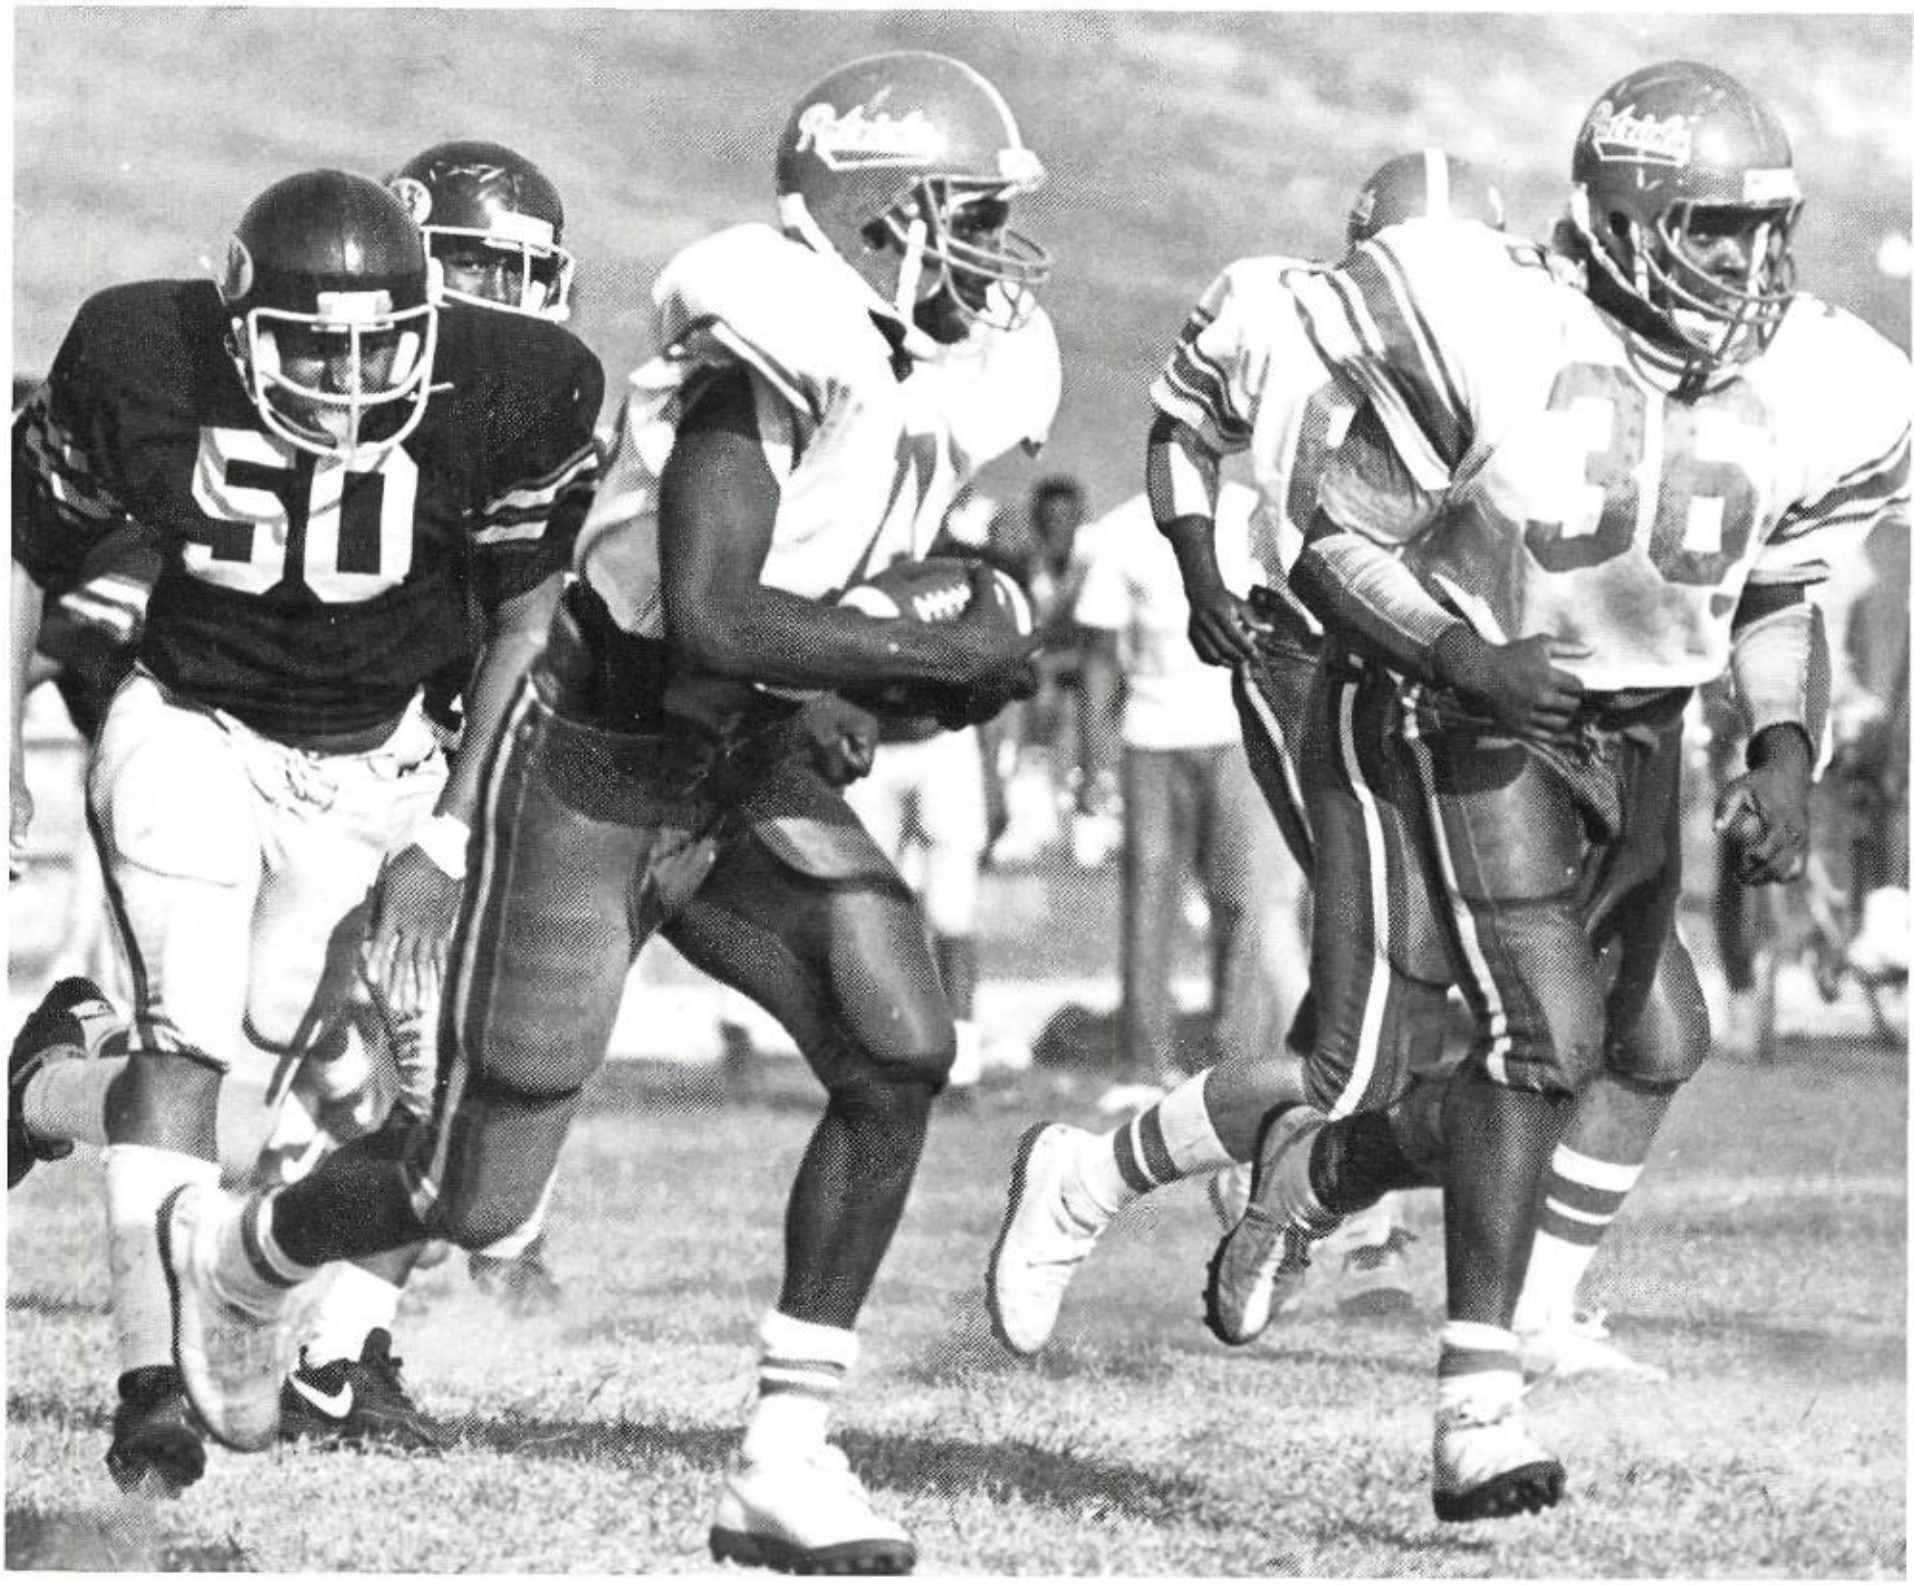
B-Team Football



Ninth Grade Football

Winners at Every Level — Reaching the Top!

The fall of 1987 proved to be another exciting and most productive season for football at Southwest. The Ninth Grade team, coached by Robert Hudson, was all-powerful and thrilled crowds with impressive wins over Northeast, Northside, Warner Robins, Baldwin and Central. This young team showed much promise with many outstanding players leading the team. Just a few of these included the quarterback John Avery, running back Harry Royal, defensive end Sean Simmons, and linebacker Larry Miley. Because of their excellent performances, the ninth graders took rightful possession of the City Championship. The players pleased fans and provided a promising future for many football seasons ahead.

The B-Team Football Team, coached by Albert Sharpe and Harvey Appling , also had a fine group of talented young men. This surprising squad of youngsters went on to capture the City Championship by beating Central High School 14-0. Outstanding players that led this team included Ron Hill, Clifford Collier, Perez Cummings, and Derek Dumas. If this team continues to play as tough as they did this year, they will certainly prove to be impressive additions to the Varsity Team for the 1988 campaign.

Wrestlemania Strikes!

The Southwest Varsity Wrestling Team enjoyed an extremely successful season in 1988. Under the instruction of Coach Danny Grube the Patriots captured the Class AAAA Area 3 Wrestling tournament for the third year in a row.

The entire wrestling staff peformed excellently over the year. Two players, however, went beyond the call of duty. The Patriots received outstanding performances from Tannis Woolfolk and Randall Manuel. Coach Grube praised these two seniors as the best and most consistent wrestlers on the team. Both of them received many distinguished and well-deserved honors.

First Rate!!

The winning tradition of our Lady Patriots continued in a big way this year. Not only did they win the City Championship, but they also established a new tradition by being the first Southwest softball team to ever capture the Sub-Region Championship title! Under the leadership of Coach Jim McBrayer, the training of Coach David Carey, and the assistance of manager David Henry, this outstanding team posted ten victories in their first ten games. The Lady Patriots finished the regular season with an overall record of 12-2. Way to go, girls!

Proud Pats!!

Hard work, determination, and pure talent were the key ingredients to the softball team's winning season, and the girls were awarded accordingly. Two sophomores, Shannon Huskins and Tara Hall , were selected as members of the All-Middle Georgia Softball Team. Pam Still, Melinda Hopper, Laura Justice, Jill Johnson, Lisa Howard, and Anne McCrary received Honorable Mention. At the Awards Banquet Most Valuable Player was Laura Justice for her consistent over-all performance. Lisa Howard and Shannon Huskins received Coaches' Awards because of their dedication, both on the field and in the classroom. Their tremendous accomplishments and outstanding achievements prove that practice does make perfect, and hard work does pay off!

Impressive!

The 1988 Lady Patriots had another impressive season, directed by Albert Sharpe, Eddie Ashley, and Iris Hill. They were a hardworking team full of determination, finishing the year 14-7. The players always showed courage, sportsmanship, and a keen desire to win. Throughout the year the team was led by many gifted young players. Stephanie Walker averaged 18 points and 10 rebounds per game as she led the team to victory. Great seasons were turned in by other players such as Larita Knight, Lisa Howard, and Angela Williams.

Young And Improving

Both the B-Team and the Ninth Grade Basketball teams were young, but they improved greatly as the year went on. These two teams are the last step on the stairway to the Varsity. For the athlete who makes it this far, she is looking forward to the personal satisfaction of one day earning a Varsity letter in the coming year.

The B-Team and Ninth Grade both had entire teams of aspiring young talent to work with. This enables the coaches to play all the players in every game. This season proved to be very valuable because these young women gained valuable experience that will enable them to make a contribution to the Varsity team within the next few years.

All Champs!

The 87-88 Varsity Boys' Basketball season was one full of surprises. According to everybody, this young team could not win a game — much less the region. They did just that! Many young and talented stars were responsible, such as: Ivano Newbill, Ricky Jones, and Andre Jackson. The biggest surprise was freshman Reginald Manuel, who led the team in scoring, free throws, and three point goals.

All of these talents combined contributed to one fabulous season where the players exhibited dedication, hard work, and good sportsmanship.

Young And Talented!

As for Southwest Basketball, the B-Team is usually the stepping-stone for the varsity, but the Ninth graders must not be overlooked. The Ninth grade team, advised by Ronald Taylor, showed that they were a very talented and exciting group of youngsters. They ended the season with a 9-1 record, and captured the City Championship.

The B-Team was coached by Clyde Barden, and had a successful year as well. Their record was 10-4, and represents what has taken SW basketball to championship after championship.

Teamwork Always Ends In Success!

The Varsity Girls' Track Team had a fantastic season! Over the course of the year they won several invitationals, the City Championship, and made an impressive showing in the state tournament. The factors that contributed to this successful season included great teamwork and fine coaching by the coaching staff. Another quality that was instrumental in their success was the natural ability to work together. The members of the team said that no player was responsible for the season, but each member carried their share of the load and made it a team effort. There is no doubt that these players will continue to gain experience and flourish in the years to come.

Running Away With It All!

1988 was a great year for track at Southwest. The Varsity Team took home numerous awards and honors throughout the year. They captured the City Championship and the Region as well. The 440 Relay team competed fiercely, and as a result they took the Region championship. Another reason for the great year was Ricky Jones. He ran away with numerous awards. Just a few include Athlete of the Year, Best Performance in the State, first place in 4AAAA triple jump, and high point in the Bibb County Coca-cola Tournament, and the Warner Robins Tournament.

The Ninth Grade team also did well for such a young team. No doubt these young men will bring just as much victory to the Varsity in years to come.

Under the direction of Coach Iris Hill, the 1988 girls' tennis team finished the season with a record of 4 wins and only 2 losses. In the regional playoff matches all of the team members, boys and girls, had tough matches and displayed great skill for such a young team. The number one doubles team of Shannon Huskins and Lisa Howard reached the quarter-final round. This was a year of rebuilding for the Southwest Golf team. It was advised by Coach Edgar Hatcher, who looks for better things and more matches to come for his young team.

Excellent Sports!

Heading into the new season, the Patriots Head Baseball Coach Eddie Ashley, knew that it would be a year for rebuilding. Although some of the year-end statistics reflected a year of disappointment, the Patriots gained valuable experience with key players who turned in fine seasons. Many team members experienced good years, despite the overall record of the team.

The Patriots recorded eight disappointing decisions during the season, but these were close-scoring, well played games. The Patriots managed to get several base hits during the year, but they just couldn't get the clutch hits to score the runs.

Coach Ashley is looking forward to a great 1989 season. An analysis of the abundance of underclass talent and an examination of the solid season of the B-Team produces a great deal of optimism.

Top Athletes Recognized

The Southwest Baseball Team was honored for their outstanding effort and achievement during the 1987-88 school year at an awards banquet held at Quincy's. The Patriots were City Champions, and they also made the playoffs. Coaches Eddie Ashley, Danny Grube, and John Matthews presented many honors to their players throughout the course of the evening. The following awards were presented: Rookie of the Year — Tyrone Dennis; Most Improved — Darren Willis; Patriot Award — Wallace Herring; Scholar Athlete — Keith Hartness; Best Defensive — Brad Marchman; Best Hustle — Joe Dupree; Most Valuable Players — David Stokes, Keith Hartness.

Ninth Grade Sparkles on the Diamond

Coach Robert Hudson's Ninth Grade Baseball Team may be young, but they already demonstrate that fantastic Southwest hustle. From the earliest practices this team proved it had the right stuff for a winning season. They worked long and hard to make the school proud of their performance. As a result, they had a very successful and winning season, and each player contributed a great deal to the cause of winning. Each member of this team will no doubt continue to display their talents in the years to come on both the B-Team and Varsity Baseball teams.

Pride & Joy!

The Varsity Cheerleading squad for the 87-88 school year did their utmost to help both the football and basketball teams have a successful season. During the summer the girls and their advisors, Shelia Martin and Cynthia Dixon, attended cheerleading camp at the University of Georgia. During football season they the cheered the team on at every game, and each also adopted a "Secret Pal." When basketball season arrived, the cheerleaders were present at every game to cheer the Patriots on to the Region Championship. The many hours of hard work exerted by the group definitely paid off for them, as they shared in the happiness of the many Southwest victories.

Red Hot Cheers!

Throughout the duration of the 1987-88 school year, the B-Team and Ninth Grade Cheerleaders continued to support each of Southwest's athletic teams. The B-Team cheerleaders spent their summer at a cheerleading camp which was held at the University of Georgia where they worked long hard hours to prepare for the upcoming year. Their energetic performances were entertaining throughout the football and basketball seasons as well. Besides always cheering on the teams, the cheerleaders perform other important tasks as well. Both the B-Team and the Ninth Grade Cheerleaders helped sell programs and seat cushions at football games. The B-Team instilled the spirit by teaching the Ninth Graders cheers at the beginning of the year, which paid off for the Ninth Graders as they cheered their football team to an impressive record.

Southwest Leaders Strive For Excellence

The Bibb County Board of Education's motto, "Striving For Excellence," is personified in the administrators of Southwest High School. Each of these leaders, in their own individual styles, demonstrate daily to the student body just what excellence is all about.

Dr. Thomas Hagler, Bibb County Superintendent of schools, sets the overall goals. Dr. Robert Williams, Assistant Superintendent, and Mr. William Bell, Assistant Superintendent for Secondary Education, are right in command. Mrs. Gloria Washington, who has served as Complex Principal at Southwest since 1980, carries out the county's plans for excellence in her very special style. Helping Mrs. Washington and the students are Mrs. Anne Hadarits, Principal of Willingham B; Mr. Gerald Stuart, McEvoy A; Dr. Columbus Watkins, Willingham A; Mr. Roger Greene, Vocational Building. Assistant Principals include Mrs. Jackie Richardson, McEvoy A; Mr. Eddie Bryant, Willingham B; Mr. Jesse Mays, McEvoy A; Mr. John Grenga, Willingham A; and Mrs. Vickie Scott who is Associate Principal For Instruction. There's no doubt about it — excellence inspires excellence at Southwest!

One of Lee Childers hobbies is dancing. She practices about fifteen hours per week, saying, "It takes a lot of hard work to develop into a dancer."

Her hobby started when she was eight years old, after her mother suggested she take dance lessons. After many hard hours of practice, an audition led to Lee's selection to the Dance Competition team for the Flag City School of Dance. As a member of this team, she performed in the 1986 production of "The Nutcracker."

Some of Lee's other interests are playing the piano, singing, and collecting key chains. Lee has high hopes that her hours spent dancing will be rewarded with a Dance scholarship.

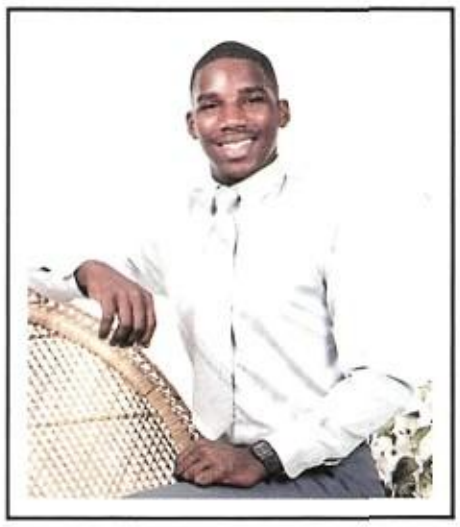
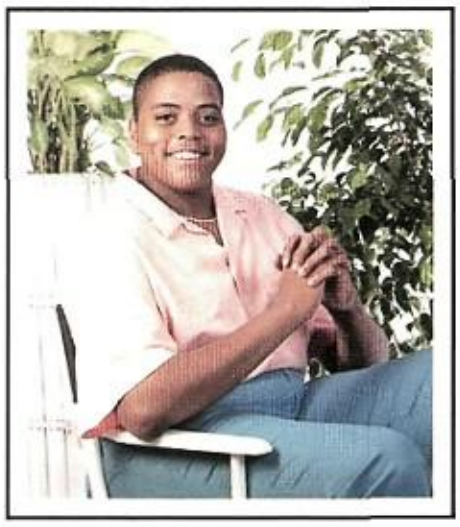
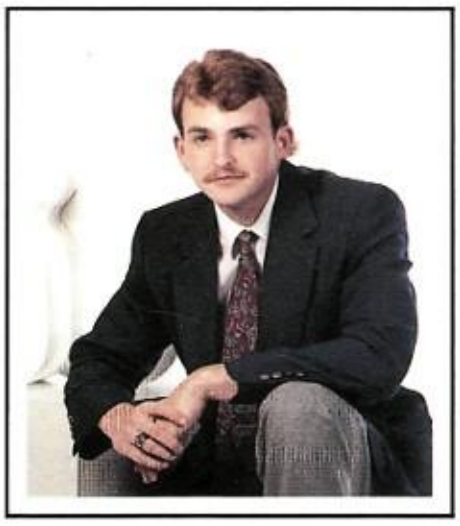
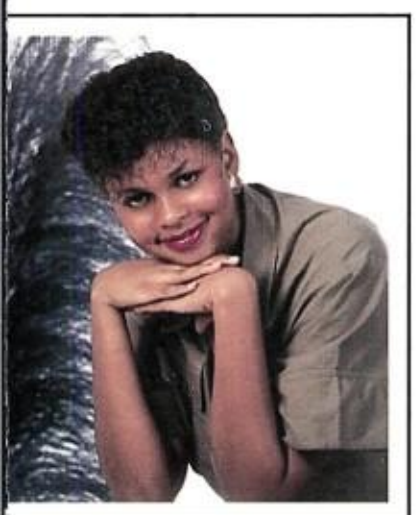
Michelle Pierce is a very energetic person, and much of her energy is spent in the form of gymnastics. Her interest started in the fifth grade after observing a friend's workout. Eleven months later she signed up for classes and made the team. During the last five years, she has participated in many meets. To stay in shape for the meets she practiced three hours per day, four to five days a week.

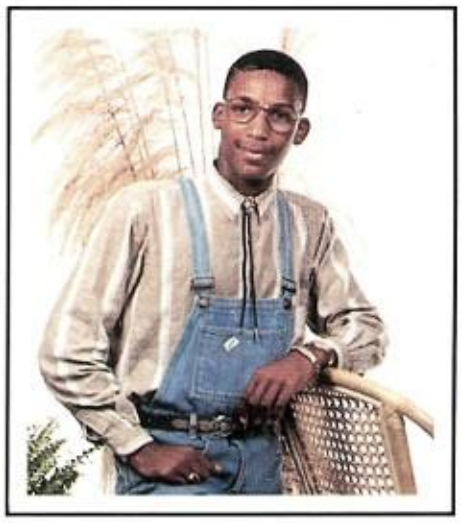
During the summer of 1987, Michelle traveled to Germany and competed against a German team. Her dedication and training ranked her number two in the state. Michelle's long range goals include a law degree and a possible election to the United States Senate.

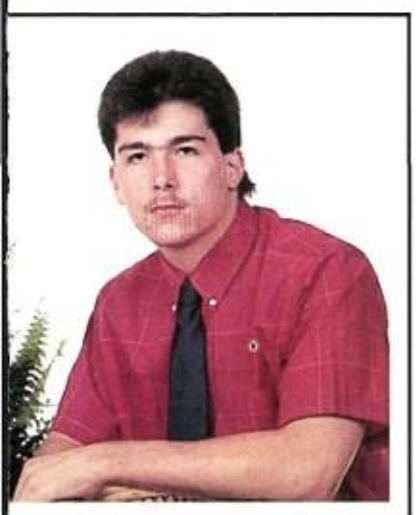


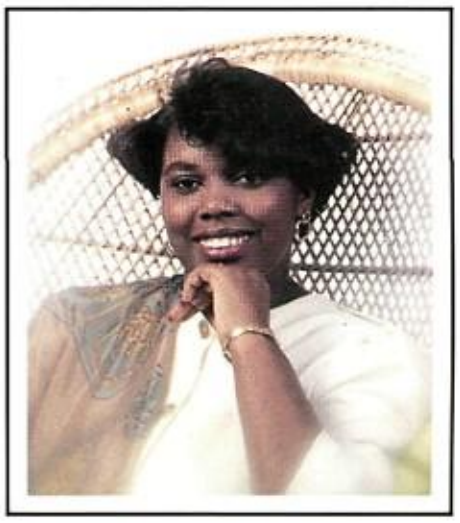


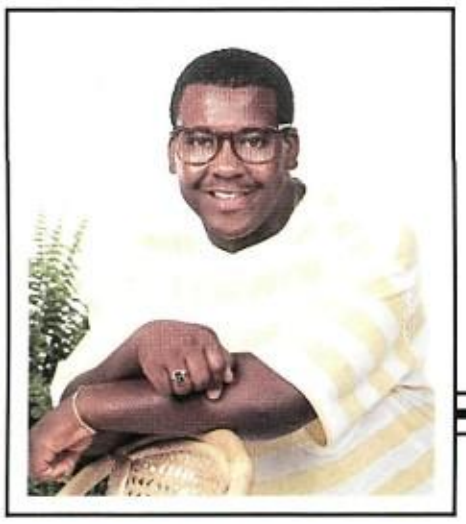


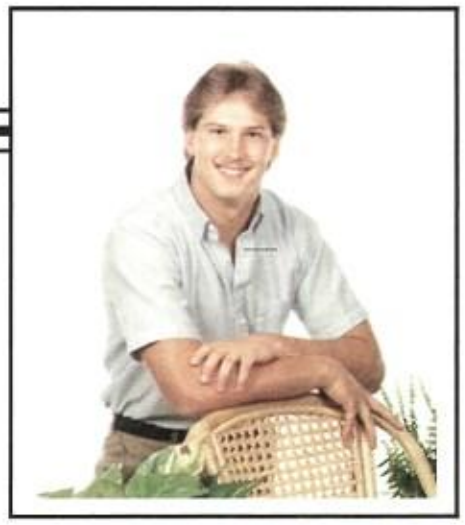


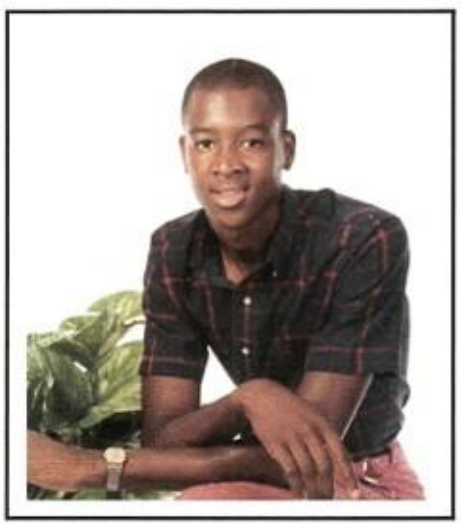


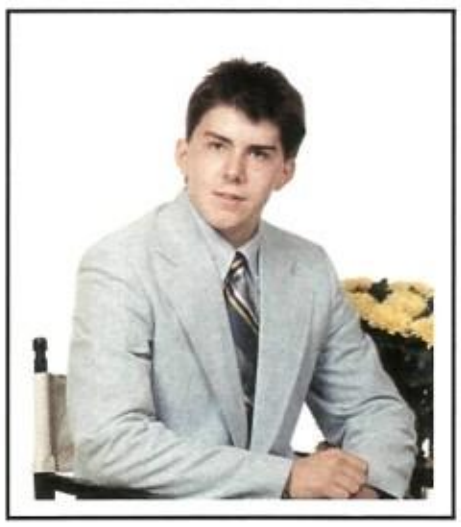


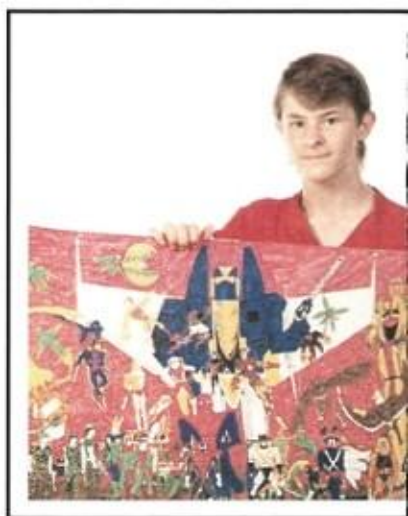


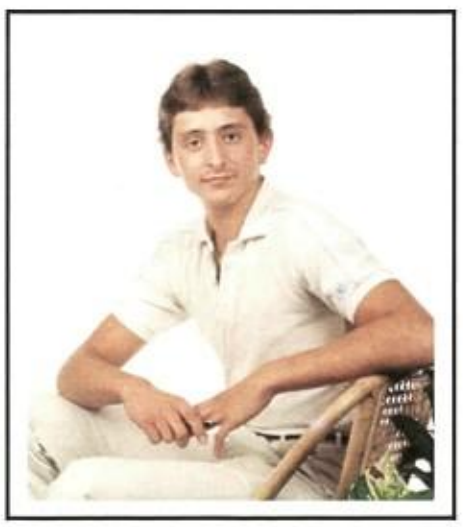


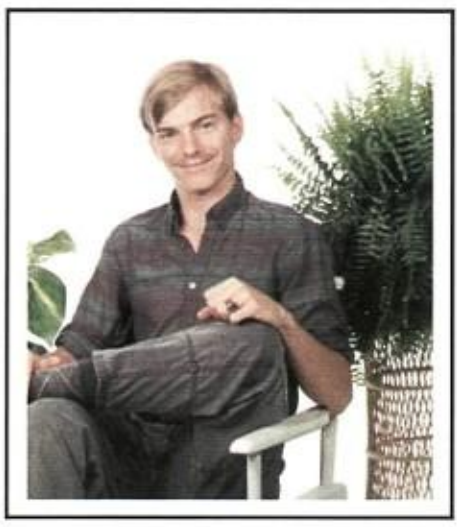


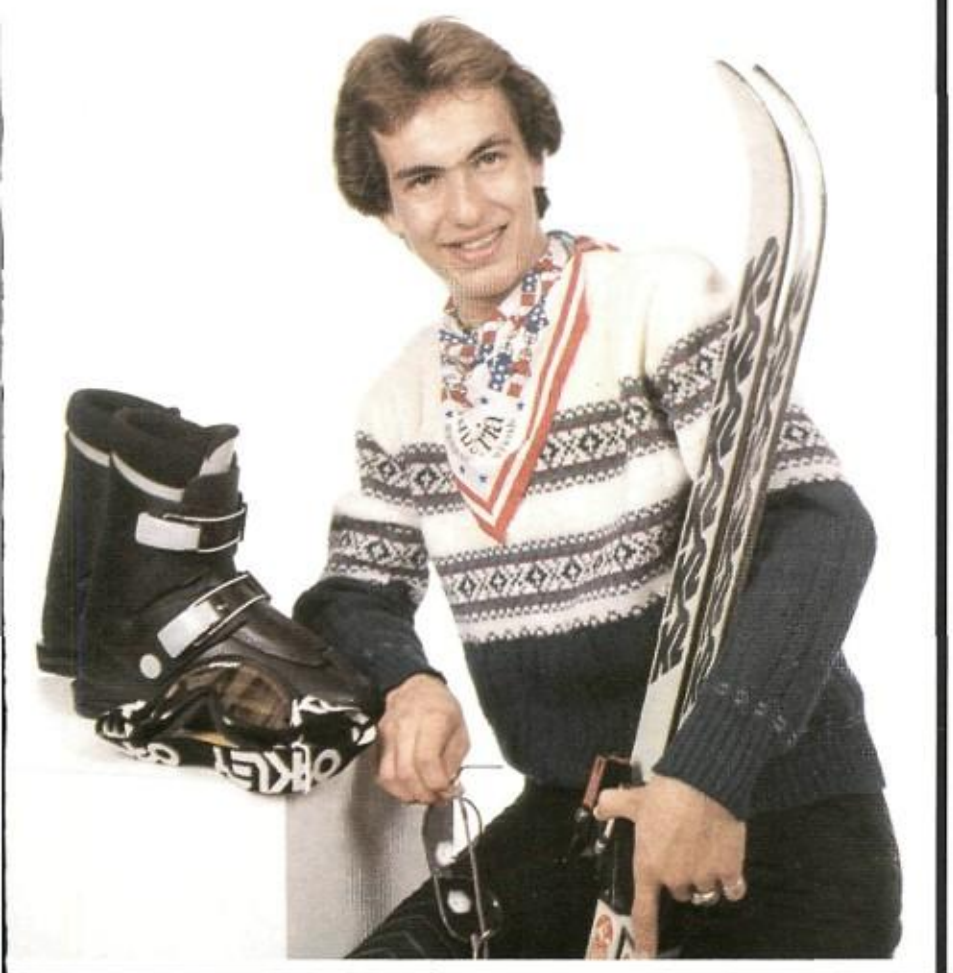












Whoosh! Cascading down a snowy mountain at tremendous speeds with the icy wind blowing against his half-frozen cheeks is Shanon Resha's idea of a "mind-blowing" time. With the influence of his stepfather, he became interested in snow-skiing. Shanon enjoys skiing because it trains his muscles and enhances his reaction time. He has skiied in Colorado, Tennessee, and North Carolina, and he hopes to try out the slopes in Austria.

Snow-skiing is important to him, but his main goal is to build a career in computers. His being Vice-President of the Southwest Computer Club is a good start.

In 1985, Carla Pitts and Charlene King watched a team of girls from Jonesboro perform at an assembly for Southwest students. When Southwest formed its own drill team, both girls tried out. They made the team and have performed with the group for three years. Carla served as Co-Captain her junior year and Captain in 1987-1988. Both girls enjoy performing at the basketball games. Charlene spends a great deal of time practicing so that she feels confident of her knowledge of the routine. She says she likes "knowing I did my best." Carla also spends her time practicing or making up new routines for the team. They love the team!

Sharon and Sharee Bentley are very close sisters, and feel they can talk to each other when they have a problem. The older by one very long minute, Sharee says there are some good points in having a twin. For example, you always have a friend to count on. Although there are many good things about being a twin, both of them complain that one is always getting more attention than the other.

Having a twin brother offers Kim Dawson a different perspective. Kim and Kerry Dawson are very close, sharing secrets with one another. They agree it has been fun growing up having a "live-in friend". Kerry says Kim teases about being older than him, but his day is coming on June 7th. His name comes before hers alphabetically, and he will graduate first.

Even though Karen and Koren Porter look so much alike, they have very different attitudes. They have their own opinions and different views on many subjects. Karen and Koren rarely dress alike, but they have switched places before.

Melinda Hodges is two minutes older than her twin Belinda. She and Belinda are very close. Whenever one of them gets into trouble, the other one is always there to stick up for her. Belinda thinks that it is sometimes difficult for her to show her own individual personality.

All four sets agree that being a twin has its advantages as well as disadvantages. However, none of them would have wanted to face the world alone.

Some people think that collecting gems is not an everyday hobby. To James O'Neal that is a different story. Since the first grade, James has been collecting many unusual gems, minerals, and rocks. Being a member of the Middle Georgia Gem and Mineral Society, he spends much of his spare time with his stones. This has given him the opportunity to collect a variety of gems and a chance to learn more about the different aspects of gems and minerals.

James traveled to Corvel Valley, North Carolina where he mined for gems, finding a few of good quality. After a friend cut the gems, he became interested in gem faceting as well.

Melinda McDowell collects wind chimes. She bought her first chime about a year ago, while visiting New York. Instead of bringing home the typical type of souvenirs from a vacation, Melinda brings home wind chimes from the places she visits. Her collection includes a variety of sizes. Some of the chimes are made of colored glass. One has dozens of tiny brass bells. She is especially proud of one she got in Jamaica. Melinda says she enjoys her hobby because it is "colorful and not very expensive to collect." The chimes also make a happy, tinkling sound when the breeze blows through them. Melinda plans to expand her collection in her future.

According to Robert Steel , his passion for drawing has developed through a number of influences. He has been interested in drawing ever since he can remember. Robert gives his father the credit for sparking his interest in drawing, and he is grateful to God for his drawing ability . His outstanding abilities in art were recognized by his nomination for the Golden Eagle Award in the Art category. Comic books also influenced his decision. Robert has adopted the same kind of style used by comic book artists. "When I became interested in comic books," Rob said, "the idea of illustrating became a real influence in my art . . . and that is why I would like to get into illustrating."

"I was walking through the mall one day and saw some Teddy Bear stickers in a store window." That's how Tracy Tipton's teddy bear collection began. Although many teenagers collect teddy bears, Tracy believes that some of her bears are very special. Since she was thirteen years old Tracy has collected and received bears of various sizes. She has collected dozens of stuffed bears, tiny brass bears, and ceramic bears. Tracy's collection also includes hats and wall plaques with pictures of bears on them. Tracy, plans to continue with her collection of teddy bears in the future. And those are the bear facts!

Stepping off the plane onto American soil for the first time must have been a truly exciting moment for Italian exchange student Halina Bassi. Halini's hobby has made it possible for her to preserve that moment for all time. Halina is an amateur photographer.

Although she has not been interested in photography very long, Halina has found time to take a course in it. Her interest will also make it possible for her to capture her experiences of living in America. She will be able to take home memories of her friends, schoolmates, and her American "family" on film to share with the people in Italy. Halina said she finds photography to be an interesting and fun hobby. In fact, she would like to pursue a career in which she might use these skills.

Halina says she would like to do something where she could "speak languages and take pictures — something like a journalist."

1987-1988 Superlatives

Standing high above the rest at Southwest, the sixteen chosen to represent the Senior Class as Superlatives have exhibited pride, leadership, and spirit in their school. Therefore, each is deserving of the title "Superlative". Each one, doing their best to see that the most is done, excels in their own way to make the Class of 1988 the best Senior Class Southwest has ever had!

On the following pages, the Spirit of '88 pays tribute to these outstanding Seniors — the 1988 Southwest Superlatives. Most Popular — Brian Chesnut and Kecia Allen; Best All Around — David Stokes and Kimberly Stollenwerck; Best Dressed — Darryl Davis and Keshel Glover; Most Academic — Stephanie Higingbotham and Charles Pecor; Most Likely to Succeed — Wallace Herring and Christy Peacock; Most Spirited — Tarn Hatcher and Carla Pitts; Most Athletic — Debra Collins and Chris Wilson; and Best Personality — Bobby Bryan and Glenetrice Gordon.

True Pats In Motion!

After weeks of grueling, sweaty workouts in the hot summer sun, the Southwest Band turned out another fabulous year. Oscar Jackson guided them through the sweltering summer into a year of great performances. The group lent their talents to an Atlanta Falcons Football game, the Cherry Blossom Parade, Fort Valley State's International Classic, Macy's Christmas Parade, numerous others, and a service project for the needy. Band officers are: B. Barron, A. Davis, R. Parks, N. Golar, K. Stokes, B. Harper, S. Busbee, C. Ford, B. Heath, J. Jolley, S. Jackson, C. Pitts, G. Townsend, F. Stallworth, D. Sneed, L. Jones, L. PATRIOT MARCHING BAND

1988 marked another fiery year for the zealous Southwest Patriot Marching Band. Their dynamic performances infused a spark that added vitality to the half-time exhibition. The band's success was due to the dedication of talented students and the leadership and guidance of Mr. Oscar Jackson.

As the band filtered onto the field, they were greeted by roaring crowds who had waited in anxious anticipation. Their lively, pulsating beat ignited a flame that spread like wildfire throughout the stands. The crowd marveled at their thrilling performances.

Band Members Really Excel

Omega Phi Delta is a new organization advised by Oscar Jackson. In the fall of this school year Omega Phi Delta donated $600 dollars they raised to the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon. The members also collected food for the needy, and planned a skit and play for elementary and middle schools. This year was certainly a busy one for the Band Honor Society.

Making Music

The Jazz Ensemble had a busy year, as always, in 1988. Under the guidance of Oscar Jackson, they performed at many different assemblies and concerts. They performed for the Japanese visitors during their assembly and at the Golden Eagle Awards ceremony. Their credits include the Cherry Blossom Pageant, a Christmas concert, the Miss Afro Macon Pageant, and the GMEA solo and ensemble festivals. All in all, this group of talented musicians traveled all over Middle Georgia to show everyone that Southwest takes pride in creating outstanding musicians.

SW Chorus Continues to Sparkle!

The intriguing Southwest Concert Choir dazzled everyone this year with its many achievements and performances. The choir remained active throughout the course of the 1987-88 school year. They started with a Christmas Concert at Mercer University in December and a Volunteer Macon Banquet later in the year. In April the choir acquired the distinct honor and privilege of singing at the nation's capital as well as the Old Post Office Pavillion in Washington D.C. This year three members of the Southwest Concert Choir were chosen for the All-State Chorus, which was a great honor for them and the school. They were Chris Griffin, Michelle Renn, and Makeba Davis. The group, which is headed by Renee Kimberly, has delighted all with its joyful singing and performing.

Mrs. Kimberly is also the director of Southwest's Show Choir. This group has displayed its talents throughout the community and the State. They have worked diligently, and because of their effort they have received numerous awards and recognition. For example, at the GMEA Festival, they received superior ratings in both categories of performance and sight reading.

Although the Southwest Choir will not be as large after this year, with hard work it will definitely live up to its reputation of excellence.

Heading for the Top

The Student Council is composed of the class officers, while the Complex Council has another set of officers that preside over the entire Southwest complex. Together they are responsible for planning the activities for the year. Some of them are the Goofy Goblin fundraiser, Christmas nursing home project, Spring Fling, and the Morp. They also planned several entertaining assemblies for the students. During the football and basketball seasons, they worked very hard on making signs to intensify the team spirit. In February they visited the state capital to increase their knowledge of the government.

Civinettes — Hard at Work

The Civinettes always have a busy year, and 1988 was no exception. It began in August when the officers met to plan out the year. They began with a "Get-Acquainted" party after school to get to know the new members and to catch up with the old! Next, they volunteered at the annual Bill Boyd's Over 75 Party, where they danced with the elderly people and served them cake.

October was a hectic month! One Saturday they had two activities going on at the same time — the Children's Fun Fair and the Macon Heritage's Flea Market. Also, the installation of the new members was held on October 13th. During November, they made voodoo dolls for the Southwest-Central game. As their November project, "pine cone turkeys" were made for their adopted nursing home residents.

In December, ornaments for the McEvoy B teachers and the nursing home patients were presented as special Christmas gifts. A Christmas party was held at Shakey's on the 14th — everyone was ready for the holidays. The New Year arrived and so did the plans for a Winter Dance. For Valentine's Day, decorations were made for the teachers and the nursing home. Many of the members also participated in the Cherry Blossom Pageant. The girls participated in the March Dance-a-thon as well. The club's annual District Convention was held in Norman Park, Georgia. Tashia Livingston was elected as the 1988-89 District Treasurer. They swept the convention goers with their numerous awards collected. Among them, the club won first place in the scrapbook competition, and first in the air-band competition. They said goodbye at their End of the Year Party in May.

In High Gear For A Very Active Year!

Key Club International has 125,000 members in 3,600 clubs worldwide, and it is the world's largest high school service organization. They provide more than six million man-hours of service to the community each and every year. The Key Club Chapter at Southwest and its 27 members are vital parts of this International structure. This club continues to remain that way because of the leadership of Pam Howell.

The club blasted off its 1987-88 year by attending a training conference held in Americus. Throughout the year, the spirited members were in high gear and participated in many service projects that greatly benefitted the surrounding communities. The Key Club members spent many afternoons visiting nursing home residents. When Christmas rolled around, they assisted the Salvation Army in the distribution of Christmas gifts to underprivileged children. The members never hesitated to get involved in any good cause, as they also donated money to the Abused Children's Projects. In February the members attended the Georgia Power Company at the Energy Fun Fair which occurred at Central City Park. Members got involved in school projects as well. At the Spring Fling held at the school campus, they raised money by having a face-painting booth. They also raised money for the club through a second fundraiser by candy selling during the year.

After a year of hard work, they attended the 43rd Annual Georgia District Key Club Convention. This year the convention took place in Macon at the Macon Hilton Hotel. During the convention, Pattie Kim was re-elected by the 9th Division as their Lieutenant Governor.

Math Experts in Action!

The dedicated students of the 87-88 Southwest Math team sacrificed their lazy Saturday mornings to rise as early as 4:30 am and travel all over Georgia to compete in various math tournaments. Led by advisor Margaret Faircloth and Varsity Captain Sissy Higingbotham, the team placed first, second, and fourth in the Bibb County meets, third at Mercer and fifth at Georgia Southwestern. This team had many outstanding members such as Craig McAdam and Jerry Patton, who both had a second place individual score at Bibb County, Jimmy Fordham, and Robbie Guest. The four members of the State Math Team who spent many afternoons to prepare were Craig McAdam, Sissy Higingbotham, Jimmy Fordham, and Robbie Guest. All these students displayed great dedication and showed that Southwest does have a "radical" math department.

Mu Alpha Theta is a service club for students who excel in the area of math. The club is advised by Margaret Faircloth. Along with her, President Sissy Higingbotham planned special projects for the club all year. Their biggest project came in April, Math Appreciation Month, when each MAO member adopted a math teacher and gave them special presents each week. As always MAO members gave up their Tuesday afternoons to tutor other students who needed help in math. The member who stayed nearly every Tuesday afternoon and helped the most people was Craig McAdam. It just goes to show that students who are good at math can do a lot more than just math!

Brain Power!

Among the many different organizations which bring honor to Southwest is the Academic Bowl Team. Advised by Jim Barfield, they started off by placing third at Macon College. The highlight of the year was having five members of the Southwest team to compete in the Georgia Academic Decathlon. Medal winners were Chuck Pecor, Sissy Higingbotham, and Jeffrey Johnson.

The Debate team, advised by Sherry Taylor, began its year early in the summer by participating in various workshops. The team had a very successful year, competing in such tournaments as Carrollton, East Coweta, Mercer, and Westminster.

A Club With Chemistry

The advisors for the Southwest Science Club in 1988 were McEvoy A Science teachers Jimmy Hinson and Richard Merchant. The officers for the club were President — Chuck Pecor, Vice-President — Juan Webb, Program Chairman — John Haralson, and Project Chairman — Brian Dunlap. These individuals worked together to come up with projects for the club to participate in during the year. The organization was involved in the Cherry Blossom Festival, and they also lent their services to a special Health Fair. The Science Bowl team members also involved themselves in the projects of the Science club. Members also displayed their ability by participating in various Science Bowl Tournaments across the state.

FFA Plants A Great Year

The FFA club had a busy year in 1988. Advised by Erik Thompson, the club participated in a variety of projects throughout the year. They sold poinsettas at Christmas and had a plant sale during the year. They participated in various projects like the State Market Hog Show and a livestock show at the State Fair, and they also lent their talent to the Cherry Blossom Festival. There was a Forestry Field Day they participated in, and members also attended the State FFA Convention in Covington. The organization also visited the Campbell Soup Mushroom farm in Dublin, Georgia. Overall it was an active and productive year for Future Farmers of America.

Planning for The Future!

The Future Homemakers of America were involved in many different activities this past year. Under the guidance of Vivian Hughes, Veronica Calhoun, and Janie Wach, they succeeded in having a productive year. The members of the club were very busy. The members collected toys and other special gifts for the Kids-Yule-Love Program. They continued to involve themselves in an Easter Egg Hunt at a local Day Care Center. These caring members did not receive any awards, but the looks on the children faces were good enough for them. Throughout the year, they made special visits to nursing home residents. The club members also kept themselves busy with a Red Cross Project and the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon. Members made a special trip to the Southern Living Cooking School. For the last minute funds they needed, they had a Rose Sale that was quite successful. Considering the time and effort that went into planning and executing the projects, you could say in this case FHA had an exciting year.

TAP, Teens Against Pregnancy, is a new organization at Southwest that just surfaced this year. It was started to offset the large number of teenage pregnancies in Georgia. Vickie Scott, Associate Principal is the club's advisor. The girls that make up this vital organization serve as role models for all the teens at Southwest. The club's primary purpose is to discourage early promiscuity among teenagers. They were busy this year spreading the message. The club has been very active this year. The members of this organization have contributed to the Kids-Yule-Love Program and many other community activities throughout the year. It was definitely a great year for the TAP members.

A Byte of Success!

The Computer Club, with advisor John King, is one of Southwest's most active clubs. Besides computers, this club cares about people too. There were many happy faces at the Hepzibah Children's Home when the Computer Club came to visit. The club also participated in the March of Dimes Walk-a-Thon and assisted with a Health Fair at the Coliseum. Members stayed after school and sponsored a computer tutoring program. Throughout the year, members took trips to study more about computers. A trip to UGA's Computer Lab developed their skills and talents more. This club is truly dedicated to their work and deserves more than gratitude for their contributions.

VICA Has Full Year

The VICA Club, which is headed by Calvin Miller, was involved in various activities this year. It is a club that teaches students to develop responsible leadership qualities through various recreational and social experiences. All club members were entertained at Pritchett's Seafood Restaurant and enjoyed the fabulous dinner at Quincy's. The advisory council of VICA ate at Red Lobster. During a club meeting, members enjoyed Krystal's that Mr. Miller sent them. The faculty in the Vocational building was delighted when the club served them lunch. Now that's respect. VICA members are very hard workers, and you could say that they have had a very "full" year.

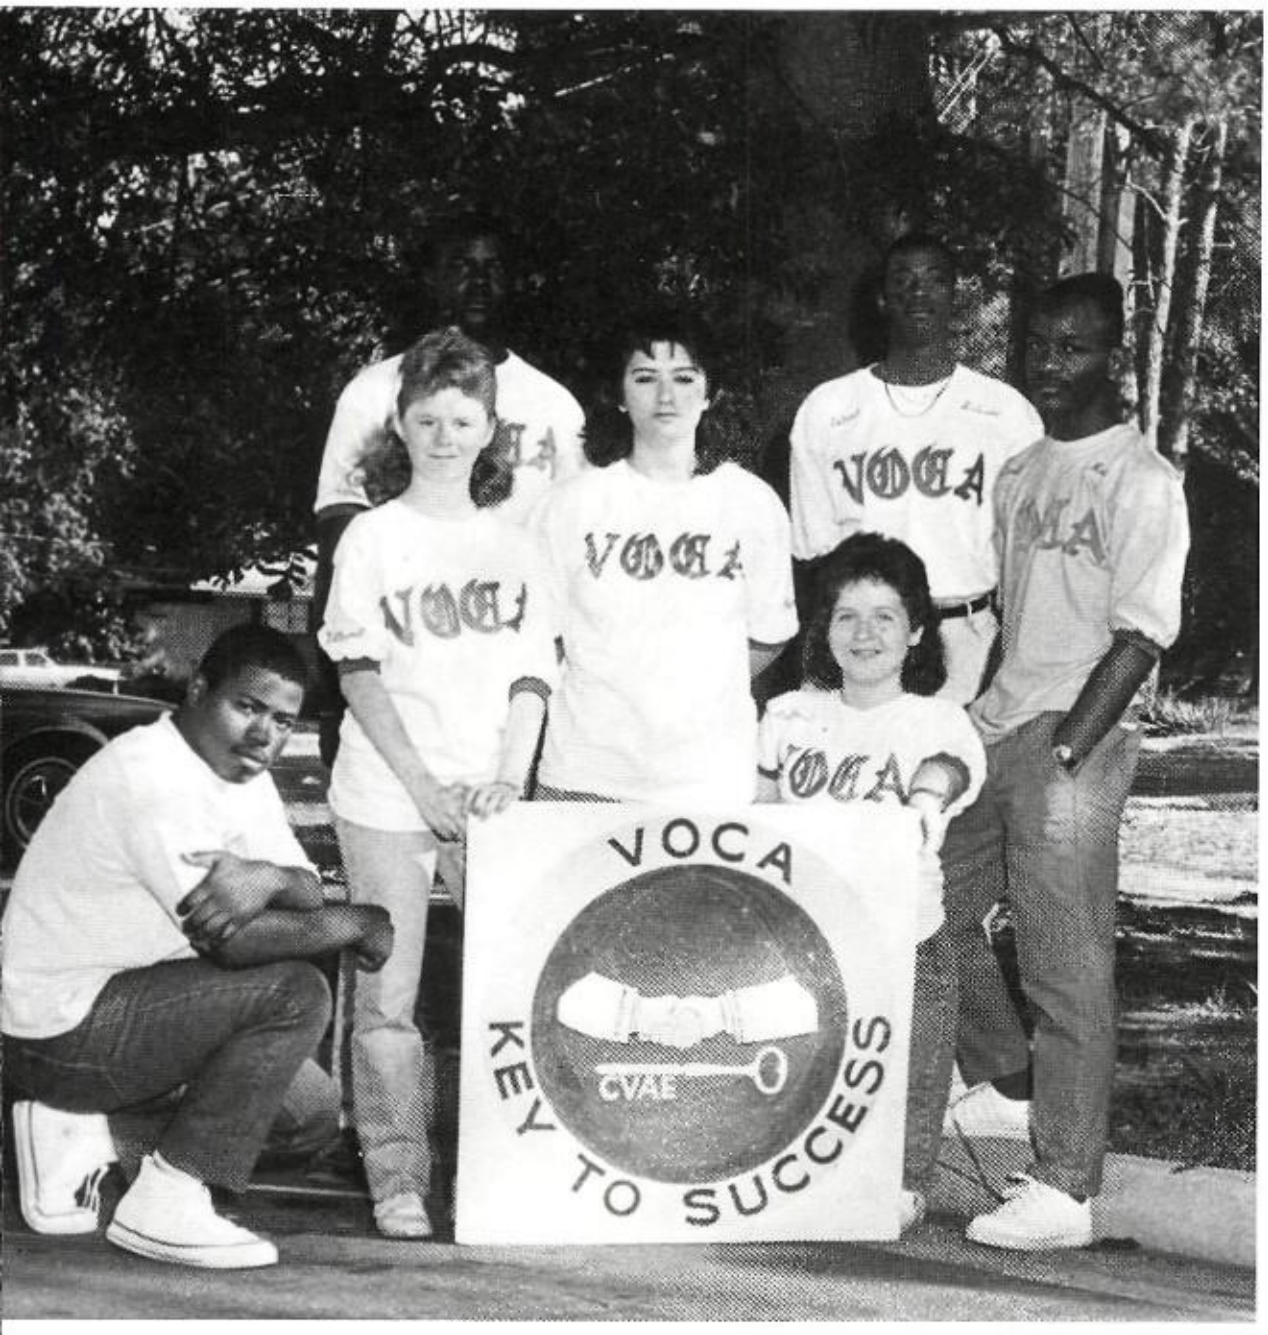
VOCA
KEY TO SUCCESS



VOCA Clubs Working for Progress

During the 1987-88 school year, the Vocational Opportunities Clubs of America, or the VOCA club, was directed by Maston Bell and Clementine Wyche. Some purposes of this club include developing leadership abilities and creating enthusiasm for learning. The club participated in a statewide leadership training course at Riverdale High School. In regional competition, they competed in twenty-one vocational related contests held at Morrow High School. At Morrow, Antonio Howard placed second in Horticulture, Gwen Smith placed third in Speech, and Charles Walls placed fourth in Drafting. At the state competition held at Epworth-by-the-Sea on St. Simon's Island, Georgia, Antonio Howard again placed in Horticulture, in the fourth position. The club participated in several school and community projects throughout the year, one of which was the repainting of the SW signs. But the VOCA club was not all work and no play. The club participated in several enjoyable activities such as a trip to Six Flags, a Christmas party at Shakey's, and the intramural games for 1988 in which the VOCA basketball team won the championship.

Striving For Perfection!

The DECA clubs are advised by Mr. Charles Rogers and Ms. Myrtle Thorpe. DECA, which stands for Distributive Clubs of America, is a work experience program designed to provide students with leadership skills and development. The members of DECA have an opportunity to compete in activities on a local, state, and national level gaining recognition for achievement made in marketing areas. Students from the Southwest McEvoy DECA Chapter took part in the Georgia State 6th District Contest and received five first place finishes. They also participated in the Georgia State DECA competition held in Atlanta. Three members of the club lent their services to the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy and gained much from the experience.

Meanwhile their fellow counterpart was busily showing their involvement in their community. The Southwest Willingham DECA club members served as volunteers for the city-wide Halloween Carnival, sponsored by the Macon-Bibb County Recreation Department. The DECA members donated over 100 canned goods to the Macon-Bibb County Family and Childrens Services food bank.

Works of Art

The Southwest Art Club was again active this year. The members donated their time to many different projects over the year. The Fifth Annual Art and Photography Show was a big success, being one of their biggest projects. They also participated in a March of Dimes fund walk, a special Arts Festival for the handicapped, and they donated toys to the "Kids Yule Love" project at Christmas.

In Pursuit of Knowledge

The Trivial Pursuit Club has been in existence for four years under the guidance of Jim McBrayer. The primary purpose of this club is to allow its members to enjoy themselves in a non-structured club environment. They work very hard to demonstrate their knowledge. The students can be found participating in several Trivial Pursuit games simultaneously during a club meeting. In the process they gained valuable academic intuitiveness. These games allow the members to sharpen their knowledge on facts, current events, and history.

Serving the Community

The Fine Arts Club has been extremely active this past year under the supervision of Carline Leonard and Ida Jordan . This club has held several fundraising projects throughout the year. They contributed $100 each to both the Make-A-Wish Foundation and the United Negro College Fund. They also gave gifts to the Kids-Yule-Love project during the Christmas season. When April rolled around, they visited a nursing home and brought Easter cheer to the elderly residents. They presented them with peace lilies to brighten their Easter holiday. The members were instilled with a warm feeling of the volunteer spirit. This year proved to be a very fulfilling experience for both the club and the community.

A Busy Club!

The Pep Club, as always, took part in some of Southwest's most spirited activities. They sponsored an annual trip to Six Flags, the Sweetheart Coronation, Underclassmen Honors Day, and the All-Sports Banquet. The club also showed their spirit during Spring Fling with a special booth and grab-bag game.

Expressing Spirit Thru Service

The Southwest Frater Sodalis Club was advised by Rev. Henry Ficklin for the 1987-88 school year. This club involved themselves in many different activities for the community throughout the duration of the year. Among these community projects were their participation in the Mayor's motorcade to help at Central State Hospital. They also volunteered their services to help out people at nursing homes across the city. The members of this organization never failed to help out in any way possible.

Involved in Community Service

Like all clubs at Southwest, the Industrial Arts club was very involved in numerous school and community activities throughout the 1987-88 school year. The three advisors of this active club were Mike Bradford, Jerry Joyner, and Norman Smith. The two officers of the club, President Matt Edwards and Vice-President Kim Deason, showed great eagerness and ambition with the selection and planning of the community service projects for the club to participate in. Along with various projects they organized, the members of the club also enjoyed various inter-city competitions in many different areas. It turned out to be a good year for the members of this small but active club.

Civitan Gives A Helping Hand

The 1987-88 Southwest Civitans came alive this year with many successful service projects which benefitted both them and their surrounding community. One of their many projects was an all-day Campus Clean-Up in the fall of 1987. Every club member showed up ready and eager to work with their various garden tools and lawn mowers. They worked a hard eight hours and stopped only for lunch, but they still managed to have a good time in the process. They left the Southwest campus in top condition.

Civitan did not limit their skills to the school campus. They also visited nursing homes residents over the year, and they helped handicapped children with their bowling project. Civitans also served at the Bill Boyd Over 80 Party once again this year. Keep up the good work!

"All That Jazz!"

The 1987-88 Southwest "Star Dancers" turned in a very productive year once again. They have been a fabulous support group for the Varsity Boys' and Girls' Basketball Teams for three consecutive years.

It all started for the girls during the summer. It was a great beginning for them because the girls got to meet each other and get to know each other well before the school year started. Even thought they had to practice in the McEvoy B lobby, they created excellent modern dances and jazz routines they employed for the rest of the year.

The school year started off excellent! The "Star Dancers" got the opportunity to unveil their new uniforms and routines at the first PTSA meeting. They also entertained students with lively acts at the merchandising assembly for the Annual Staff.

During the Basketball season, the dancers got the chance to put many long hours of practice into effect once again. They supported the basketball teams with all that "Southwest Pride", and all that "Jazz."

Fashionable!

The Vogue Club did remarkably well this year with the help of their advisor, Patricia Vinson. Their hard work was proved through their participation in all the activities they organized.

The Vogue Club involved themselves in two fundraising activities. One was the selling of autograph ribbons. They also sold view scopes in early February. Both projects were very successful and many students were seen with these ribbons and viewscopes.

In the spring they organized the annual fashion show which took a great deal of time and effort. Many of the participants attended a workshop to prepare for this very important event. Through their active participation at Southwest, the Vogue Club has enhanced the fashion atmosphere at Southwest and have definitely proven that they are "in style."

Helping Out

The Just Say No Club has spread an important message over the past two years. All 58 members believe in and work toward a drug-free community. With the help of advisors Margaret Jackson and Billy Lacefield, Just Say No has managed to have a productive year. They worked with MADD, and they sponsored a poster and essay contest. Many students put their creativity to work, and the project was a success. The club, showing their dedication, also participated in the Just Say No March held in Atlanta. They were responsible for students at Southwest receiving ice cream on Spring Fling Day. It was a very busy year.

Two Clubs That Serve Commmunity

The 1987-88 school year was a busy one for many Southwest clubs. The Youth Against Cancer club proved to be no exception to this rule. Advised by Alice Dickey and Ann Wilder, the club participated in a variety of activities — one of which included selling candy for donations to the American Cancer Society's research program. During the Great American Smoke-out, the club placed posters in each building to inform the student body of the dangers of smoking. At Christmas time, club members made contributions to Kids Yule Love, along with providing the teachers' lounges with refreshments. These caring students made sure everyone was thought about, and they sent Valentine and Easter cards to nursing home patients during the holidays. With the year coming to an end and as busy as the club was, they didn't forget its deserving club members. Scholarships were donated to them for the outstanding work they did for the club.

As the Youth Against Cancer club have a busy year, the Leo club did the same. Under the guidance of Sue Kalbfleisch, their fundraiser for the year dealt with White Cane Day. The club had several service projects which consisted of cookouts and parties at the Georgia Academy for the Blind. Another project for the club was to collect used eyeglasses, hearing aids, and eye donor cards from any willing donor. Members of the club also participated in a spring trip to a state park near Okefenokee Swamp with the blind students. It just goes to show that both clubs did have an eventful year, as they displayed their pride and dedication in everything they did for their school and community.

Le Tres Bon Cercle!

The French Club, headed by Marcia Aldridge, was involved in various activities throughout the year. President James O'Neal organized many projects for his club to participate in. They experienced culture by dining at Ann Maria's in Macon. To show their Christmas spirit, the club had dinner with Central High's French Club. The club sold Valentine messages and participated in the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon. The French Club had many successful projects through the course of this year, and it is safe to say that they will continue to be successful in the years ahead.

Another Busy Year!

The Latin Club had a very eventful and exciting year. They started out by having a "Welcome Party" for all the new members. The club participated in a number of projects as well. One project was when the club bought Thanksgiving dinner for a needy family. As a fundraiser, the club members sold candy. The club visited Leo's to sample authentic Greek cuisine. At the end of the year the club held a toga party. The Latin Club, under the leadership of Gloria Jean Stokes and President Chuck Pecor, has grown and prospered.

Club Proves Successful!

Dedicated to helping others was what the students in the Octagon Club were. This club was advised by Mr. Mathews during the 1987-88 school year. This club did an outstanding job of lending their services to many different projects in the community. They made favors for teachers and fruit baskets for nursing homes at Thanksgiving and Christmas time. They contributed toys for young children to the "Kids Yule Love" project. They also brought in canned goods for the Macon Rescue Mission. All in all, the Octagon Club had one of its most successful and prosperous years to date.

Active and Dedicated!

The students who were a part of the Future Business Leaders of America concentrated their efforts on vocational office training and helping the community. The club was advised by Mrs. Meeks and Mrs. Cook for the 1987-88 year. Their many well-developed community projects and services included helping with "Kids Yule Love," giving to the needy at Thanksgiving, and putting up Christmas decorations at a Nursing Home. Their contributions were an asset not only to Southwest but to the community as well.

Pen Wizards!

The staff of Southwest's newspaper, the Patri-Article, has participated in a number of events this year. Advised by Sue Kalbfleish, the staff improved their skills by attending two UGA workshops and also a Georgia College workshop. The staff worked hard together in organizing each issue of the Patri-Article. They published a total of four issues this year and each publication turned out to be a success in literary achievement. After all the hard work, they also participated in fund-raising projects, such as candy sales and valentines messages.

Outstanding!

Sherry Taylor's Montage Staff has also been active this year. They brought many awards back to Southwest. Rob Steel was a third place winner in Illustration at GSPA. Sissy Higingbotham was a poetry finalist in Troy State Alabama Literary Review. Sonya Smith, Latanya Ridgell, and Joyce Gatton each placed at Abraham Baldwin College. Melinda McDowell was first in Poetry at Gordon College, while Melanie Search placed first at the Bibb County Young Georgia Authors Contest. That is only a few of the awards won this year by the Montage.

Reaching Out

Southwest has developed an outstanding program to reach students who need personal guidance and would benefit from an association with fellow students. This well-known, uprising program originated at the campus in the Fall of 1985.

The purpose of this program is to assist other students at Southwest. They provide orientation for both new and transfer students by acting as official guides. The program has proved to be very beneficial at Southwest. It has helped to create closer bonds between the students and provided an invaluable learning experience for them.

As I sit here and think over the past two years I realize what the words "best friends" mean. We have been through so much. Just take a minute to remember all the crazy things we did. We have laughed together and cried on each other's shoulders. Now it is time to grow up. We made it! Congratulations!

I love you both!

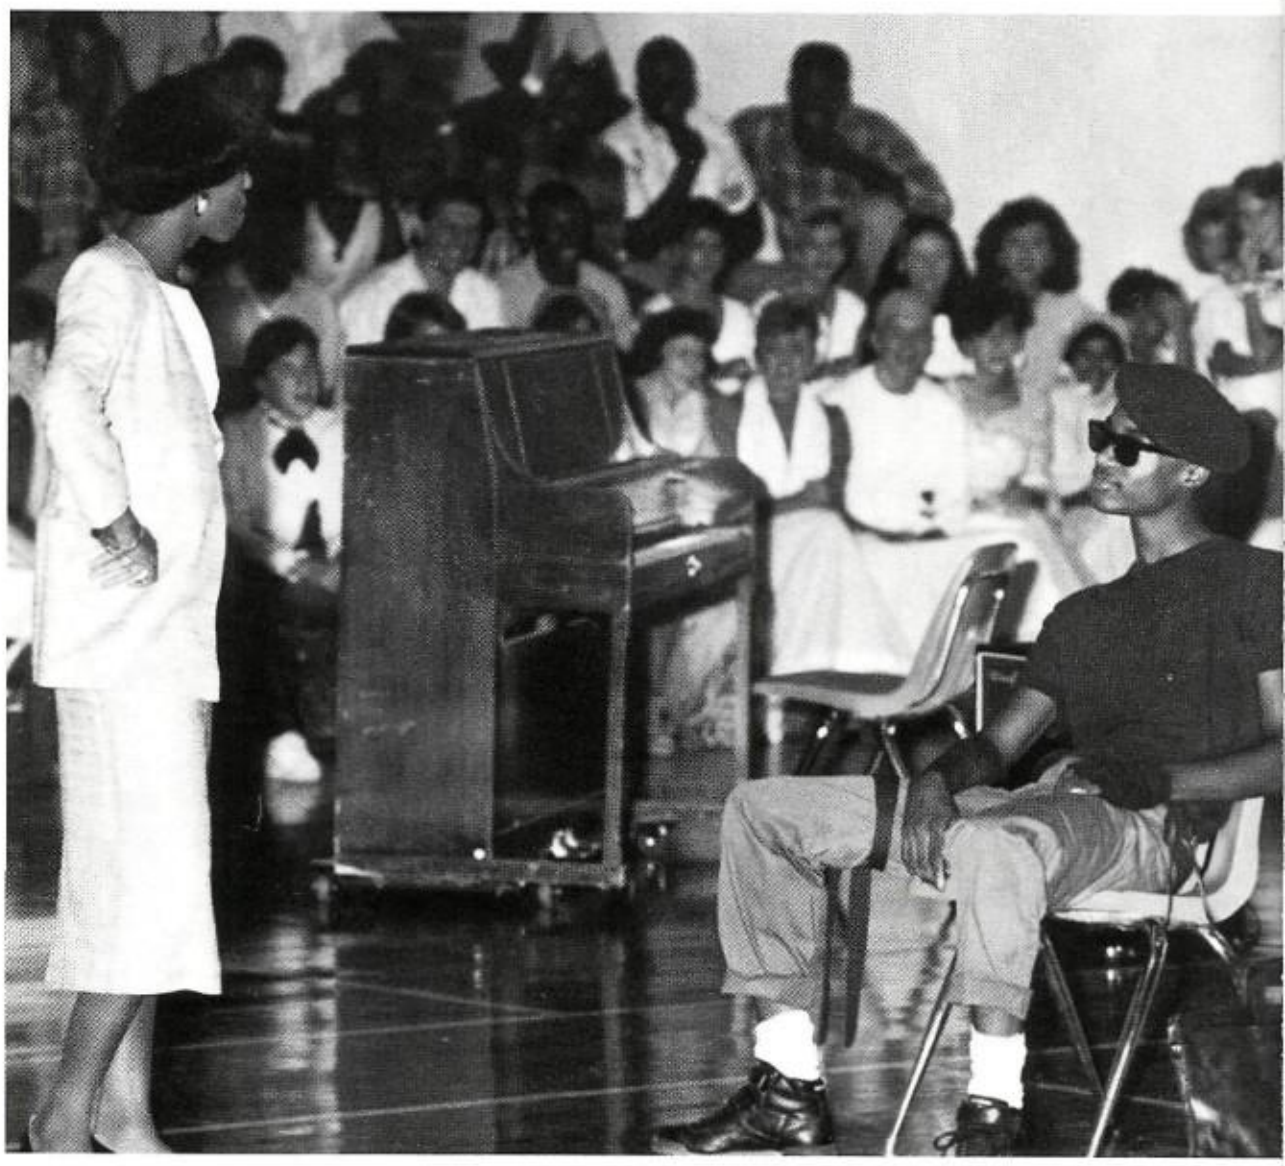
STUDENT LIFE



200 Years!

We, the Patriots, celebrated the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution with a variety of activities during the week of September 14-19, 1987. In honor of the Constitution, daily announcements were made about the history of the Constitution and its amendments as America grew and changed. English teacher John Jones performed dramatic readings in the roles of George Washington and Benjamin Franklin. Copies of the Constitution were donated to Southwest by the National Bicentennial Commission in Washington, D.C., and issued to all students in their Social Studies classes. The 82nd Airborne Chorus performed during an assembly. The lunchroom staffs even offered a 1700's menu all week.

The highlight of the Celebration was the Student Council Assembly on September 17th. Council members performed skits demonstrating various parts of the Constitution. The Chorus sang a variety of patriotic songs. A group of McEvoy B faculty and staff, who called themselves the "Liberty Bells" delighted the crowd with their rendition of "It's A Grand Ole' Flag." The assembly emphasized patriotism to both America and Southwest High School. It was truly a "Patriotic" week.

Gearing up To Give!

Each year Southwest students join together in the continuation of a Halloween tradition — Goofy Goblin. This program is undertaken every year by dedicated students who seek to improve the life of the needy. The money that the Goofy Goblins collect is used to buy food, gifts, and grooming articles for Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets that will be distributed among underprivileged people. As the tradition goes, the many Goofy Goblin representatives dress up in audacious costumes on the last day of collection in an attempt to create one final collection campaign. The costumes have always been unique, and this year was no different.

A Time For Sharing!

Christmas at Southwest is always an unforgettable experience. The Christmas spirit was visible in so many different ways. As usual the halls were full of students carrying presents and cards to deliver to all of their friends and teachers. Student Council again sold the popular chocolate Santa Clauses that were to be distributed in supervisions. Christmas skits by students in each grade were performed, and the band provided music as well. Teachers, of course, did not fail to get into the act. Seniors were treated to the traditional "Twelve Days of Christmas" as performed by the McEvoy B Faculty and Staff, and then they were given time to enjoy refreshments and to pass out gifts for their friends. All this just goes to show that Southwest Patriots have even more spirit in that time of giving and sharing.

'Tis The Season To Be Jolly!

A Night of Elegance!

Each year the Southwest Pep Club sponsors the traditional Sweetheart Coronation, which is done so to honor some of the school's most outstanding girls. This year it was held on February 25th in the McEvoy B Gym. The girls were picked by the male population of the school through voting in supervisions, and winners were announced the night of the coronation. Before that moment, however, the contestants had to participate in the talent competition, as well as modeling formal and informal attire.

This year's Miss Sweetheart was freshman Yandchia Ridley. Runners-up were as follows: First Place — Yuwanda Parks; Second Place — Kimberly Stollenwerck; Third Place — Michelle Ayers.

Of the 44 young ladies who competed, a winner was selected for each class as well. These were: Miss Senior — Carla Pitts; Miss Junior — Iris Lavant; Miss Sophomore — Tonya Gordon; and Miss Freshman — Wendy Tucker.

The Night the Creature Took Over the Museum . . .

. . . It was a riot! The Senior Play of 1988 was the comedy-drama-adventure "The Creature Creeps," performed at the Museum of Arts and Sciences on May 12th-14th. Many seniors turned out for the auditions, in an attempt to land a part in this production. The actors chosen for the play put in many hard hours of work after school to get prepared. John Jones and Evie Crumbliss played a big part in guiding these students through the weeks of grueling rehearsals. After the final dress rehearsals were completed, it was time for opening night at the Museum. The dedicated individuals who made up the lively cast were: Denice Chapman as Heidi Zitzen, Bela Desai as Baroness Maritza Von Blitzen, Bianca Harmon as Olga Zitzen, Wendall Hamilton as Frank Sterling, Cynthia Hood as Babsy Baloo, Yvonne King as Hannah Zitzen, Chuck Pecor as Baron Donald Von Blitzen, Deborah Surles as Gretchen, Kim Stollenwerck as Daisy Von Blitzen, Derrick Sneed as Mord, Brenda Truss as Freida Zitzen, and Juan Webb as the four Shtunken Brothers.

As the beginning of the drama unfolded, we met Baron Donald Von Blitzen, his maid Gretchen, his servant Mord, his daughter Daisy, and her fiance Frank. We learned more about the creation and got the feeling maybe Donald was hiding something in his cellar — for the simple reason of the deafening screams coming from it. After the "loud" appearance of the Baroness, the four Zitzen sisters, and their fiance's (who looked very much alike) (?), we tried to figure out exactly what was going to happen. Why did all of the Shtunken brothers have to go to the bathroom so much? Would Daisy really marry Frank Sterling? Would Babsy ever tell Mord her true feelings for him? Would the Baroness ever take singing lessons? To find out, the audience (like Hannah's and Hans' patients) had to continue to have patience until the exciting climax.

Party Time!!

The Morp Dance was definitely a different way to unwind after the dreaded Fall Quarter Finals. On November 19, 1987, in the McEvoy B Gym, Southwest students enjoyed for the first time an unusual dance called the Morp. It was sponsored by the Student Council. "Morp" is just "Prom" spelled backwards, and the whole idea of the dance was to dress "down", just the opposite of the very formal Prom. The gym was decorated with toilet paper draped from the ceiling, shredded newspapers and cans were scattered on the floor, and spray-painted backgrounds covered the walls with colorful and tacky graffiti. Even an old trashed bike and an authentic toilet seat were part of the scenery.

A drawing from the tickets selected a Mr. and Mrs. Morp. The winners of this prestigious and glorious honor were Barbara Lundy and Charlie Simmons. Instead of presenting the "royal couple" with crowns, the two winners were given red, white, and blue Southwest spirit hats. Using toilets as thrones, pictures were taken in front of the graffiti-covered Morp backdrop. Mr. Platt, a Ballard B Industrial Arts teacher, served as the D.J. He played a variety of music which everyone enjoyed. This dance was a big success, and it may become another Southwest tradition!

No More Time

In the hustle and bustle of the Senior year, unknown to us all, seeds of a new concept were sown in Mrs. Norris' class. Kim Butterworth came up with the idea of capturing the very special year with a time capsule. This Senior class was very special because they are the first freshmen to come to Southwest. Mark Webb was in charge of buying materials, while Rob Steel decorated it. It is full of priceless memories of 1988: a football, baseball, and basketball-all signed by members of the respective teams, club rosters, cheerleading uniforms, senior jerseys, the Patri-Article, Montage, and the Spirit of '88 as well. All this added to the memories of the final year of Southwest's existence.

The Seniors had one final fling with a Lip-Sync contest. Many great acts rocked the house, such as Salt-n-Pepa, Poison, Tiffany, and the show-stealing act that performed "My Drawers."

All Together

Students at Southwest were entertained and well-informed in 1988 with a variety of different assemblies. Selected students were chosen to hear Presidential candidate Jesse Jackson speak on his various campaign proposals. When Jackson asked if anyone was interested in helping with his campaign, several Southwest students showed their spirit and volunteered their services. A group of Japanese visitors put on a show for students and then sat in on some American style classes. They performed an ancient sword fight and interesting dances and songs. A Navy Band came to Southwest and performed rousing renditions of some Top 40 hits. They even pulled some of the students onto the floor with them to serenade them and jam to the beat.

Perhaps the most interesting assembly had to be the Army Chorus group. They drove many of the ladies into hysterics with their sexy voices and sultry tunes. It was a great year for Southwest assemblies.

1988 Junior-Senior Prom

'You're the Inspiration" was the theme the beautiful Prom put together by the ior Student Council members for the ss of 1988. Those dedicated individuals in many long hours after school the ole week before the gala affair was to ur on May 20th. Seniors had been pre- ng for the long-awaited event as well — ng up their dates, ordering tuxedos and vers, buying dresses, making reservations dinner — and the list goes on.

The Macon City Auditorium was def- ely the place to be that evening, as South- t students turned out in great numbers king more handsome and beautiful than . Many spared no expense to arrive in e — as a number of students rented ousines — after having a romantic dinner ome of the more elegant restaurants in con. Some of these included the Green ket, Harbor Point, Bealle's 1860, and . Tripps.

Students arrived and got their pictures made before the lead-out, in which Student Council members and their dates were introduced. The Complex principals and their escorts were introduced as well. Then everyone in attendance enjoyed refreshments and proceeded to dance the night away with the help of the band Poo Nanny. They played some great music and got the students excited about the night. It was definitely a night to remember for everyone. The Senior Class of 1988, thanks to the Juniors, had one of the most beautiful and memorable proms ever.

What a Night!

Many weeks and even months of planning for the event were finally coming to fruition. Friday, May 20th, 1988 had arrived, and what a night it was! Seniors and their dates dressed to kill and got together for an unforgettable night of fun and dancing. The band — Poo Nanny — began at 8:00 pm and didn't stop rocking until the midnight hour. They even had an interesting "Bad Mama Jama" contest, in which girls in attendance got up onstage with the band to get the place jumping. The one who received the most applause and won the title of "Miss Bad Mama Jama" was Brandi Heath.

Many wished the songs would not end, as Southwest students danced the night away and shared some great moments together the whole night long.

The Time of our Lives

The 1987-88 school year was a great one for Fads and Fashions. The runaway hit at the box office, Dirty Dancing, revived one of the greatest fads of the 60's and led the way to an unforgettable year. Everyone from teenagers to middle-aged moms and dads was trying out the mamba and bumping and grinding to music of today and yesterday.

Fashions were unique as always. We saw the emergence of stone-washed and acid-washed jeans and school-boy glasses. Many things resurfaced, such as suspenders, tie-dyed shirts and sebagos, while jams and miniskirts with leggins stayed in style. Various types of shoes — K-Swiss, L.A. Gear, Reebok, Adidas, Fila — all proved to be popular as a tool of individuality.

Spuds McKenzie, Garfield, and the California Raisins were popular novelties of the year. Auto shades for car windshields were a new craze. Compact discs evolved to replace LP and cassette players, and skateboarding became one of the hottest and most popular sports of the year.

Fun Time in the Spring!

Spring was full of surprises in 1988. For starters, our own Melissa Shaw was crowned Cherry Blossom Queen, while Kim Dawson was a princess. A very successful Spring Fling occurred in May as well. Many great booths were set up on the soccer field. The Computer Club had a very profitable Sno-Cone machine and balloon toss. Youth Against Cancer's pie throwing booth really attracted a lot of business and gave friends the chance to get even with one another. The French Club gave students a chance to avenge all their teachers by throwing darts at their photographs. The Just Say No Club supplied relief from the summer heat with free ice cream for everyone. The Pep Club also helped with their ring toss that rewarded the winners with a two-liter bottle of their favorite soda. There was also the traditional cake walk, and even a band that performed during the day. Students could also marry as many people as they wanted at the Civinettes marriage booth.

Giving the Gift of Life

Dedicated volunteers from the American Red Cross returned to the Southwest Campus on December 8, 1987, for their annual Blood Drive. The event began in the 1970's and is sponsored each year by the Complex Student Council.

Council members signed up donors, and from 8:30 am to 1:00 pm students and faculty members kept their appointments in the McEvoy B Gym. Southwest individuals turned out in huge numbers to volunteer for this event, as a total of 137 signed up. Another successful effort was accomplished as the Patriots overcame their fears, and benefitted the community's collection of the life-saving liquid.

Spirit of '88 proudly recognizes the following for their contribution of the gift of life: Katie Stokes, Doug Garrett, Christie Flanary, Koren Porter, Kenneth Alligood, Dale Joiner, Jimbo Gay, Angela Griffin, Stephen Cameron, Yvonne King, Joyce Gatton, Lori Shannon, Ticha Mathews, Sandy Pace, John Horne, Kyle Harris, Brian Webb, Eric Minter, Cindy Ray, LaKeitha Johnson, Christy Peacock, Angels Puckett, Glenetrice Gordon, Karl Adams, Pam Kelley, Juan Webb, Rodney Wilson, Gary Townswend, Jeff Carter, Dana Outlaw, Winston Lewis, Spence Hamlin, Michael Hinson, Sonnya Varner, Deron Davis, Chris Caswell, Mitch Scott, Sissy Higingbotham, Otis Curtis, Andre Jackson, Dale Crump, Leontyne Nelson, Tony Phillips, Karen Porter, Larry Kemp, Christy Yarn, Sandy Vandergriff, Arthur Thompson, Halina Bassi, Derek Moye, Robert Tidwell, Victor Reece, Tony Crowder, Cherie Patton, Lee Shaw, Kenn Bivins, Anthony Wooten, Rebecca Springer, Harold Smith, Joey Fernandez, Joe Middlebrooks, Cedric Patrick, Bobby Grinstead, Patsy Denmark, Jackie Jackson, Keith Beddingfield, Mark Suddeth, David Dillon, Jerry Spires, Dwayne Spinks, Denice Chapman, Mark Webb, Greg Earls, Melissa Shaw, Chris Bryant, Michelle James, Kim Butterworth, Marquita Bidwell, Michelle Meacham, Michelle Mayo, Maurice Rozier, Bobby Neal, Jay Ryals, Antonio Thompson, Cary Harrington, Connie Barton, Darryl Davis, Troy Chitty, Danny Gay, Jeffrey Johnson, Raymond Hill, Sandra Julkes, David McCanie, Karen Roland, Keith Hartness, Anthony Blackmon, Jimmy Fordham, Tracy Calloway, Dwayne Casteel, Tracy Tipton, Faith Williams, Kim Stollenwerck, Mark Friar, Dina Green, Charles Walls, Lamar Murry, Alicia Moffett, Linda McMullan, Tracy McMullan, Angelia McLain, Teri Atkinson, Corey White, Tonya Williams, Michelle Pierce, Susan Smith, Arthur Howard, Johnny Hawthorne, Pauline Scott, Joe Snyder, Glenn Givens, Jeff Brown, Ronny Guilmette, Sabrina Hand, Brian Henry, Kin Brown, Sandra Beavers, Steve Evans, Keith Holt, Jerome Holsey, Nekee Flournoy, Victor Dixon, Michael Hutchinson, Billy Hunt, David Stokes, and Rico Gibson. TOP, LEFT TO RIGHT: Lori Shannon tries to relax while giving blood. MACKE
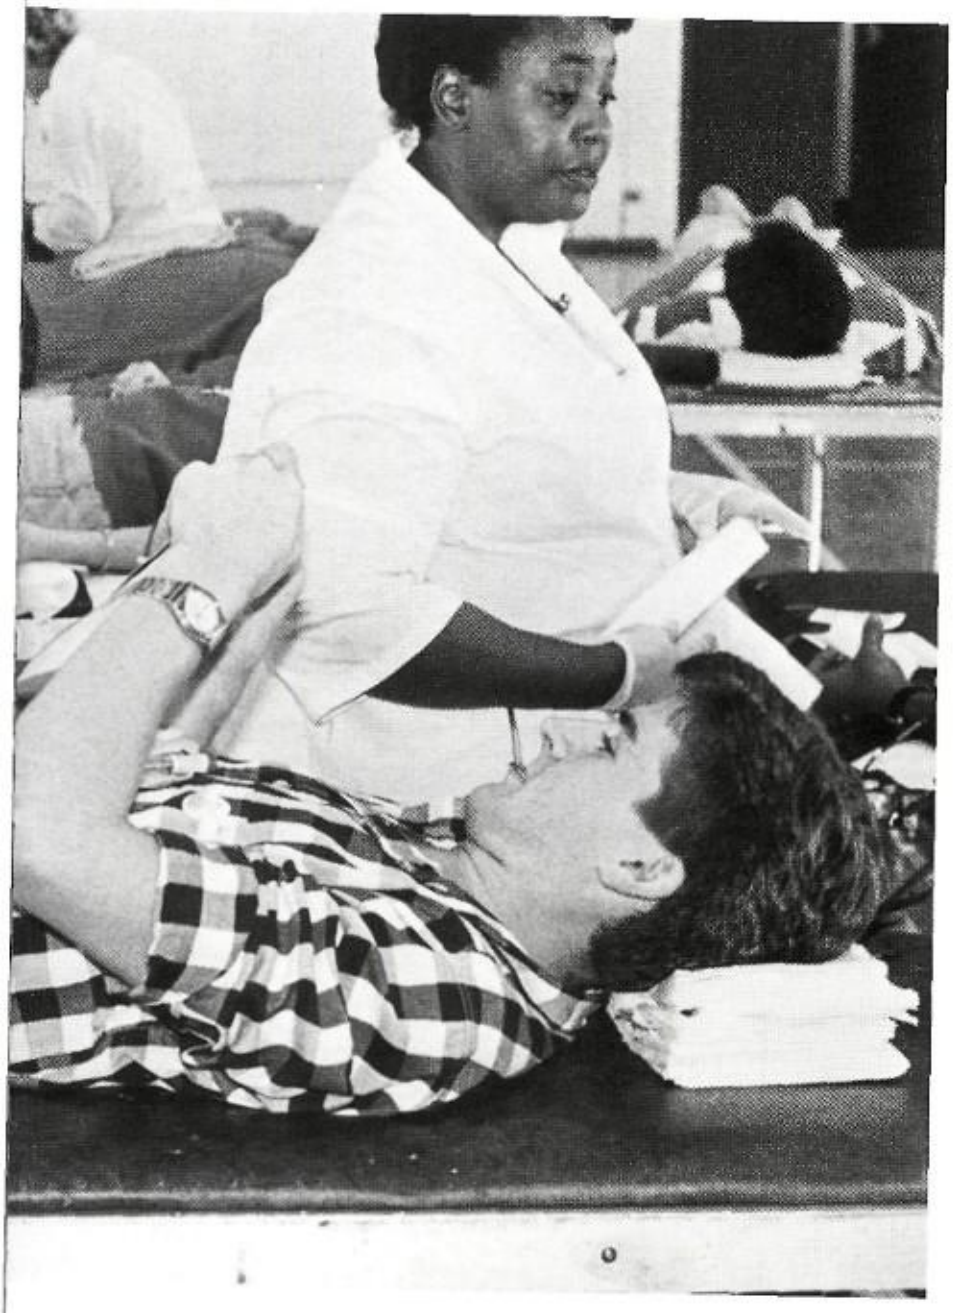
BUD LIGHT



I'M A SQUARE

We make more money
The pushers say
Get that kid
To smoke pot today
What THC can do
They will not see
To unborn babies
And mothers-to-be
First the pot
Then the crack
Next is cocaine
And no turning back
Call them a square
Call them a joke
That will get them
To try this dope.
Of course, they don't tell
What drugs can do
The living hell
They put you through
To never care
To never try
The hurt, the pain
The living lie
This and more
They'll forget to say
They also forgot Jesus
And his Judgment Day.
Call me a square
And anything you like
Jesus will come back
He'll make things right.
Yes, I'm a square
And I'm proud to say
But I'm gonna get high
Come Judgment Day.
To take a trip
With him you see
I don't need cocaine
I don't need LSD
I don't smoke pot
I don't use crack
He died for me
And he'll come back
Then I'll get high
Wait and see
A joint called Heaven
Is waiting for me!

HONORS

Southwest Honors its Exceptional Underclassmen

It was a day of great honor for the underclassmen who had excelled during the 1987-88 school year. Awards were given for a variety of accomplishments. This occasion, which in years before had been held during the evening, was scheduled for the first time in the morning during school.

The school publications presented their awards first. The Southwest Annual Staff announced their editor to be junior Pattie Kim, while the Southeast Annual Staff chose a sophomore, Shannon Huskins, to handle the job for them. The 1989 editor for the Patri-Article will be Clayton Williams.

Awards were presented to students who had excelled at Math, Science, and Debate tournaments as well. Literary awards were presented to students who excelled in literary competitions and oratorical competitions as well. Robbie Guest, Marcelles Prather, Amy Fincher, and Pattie Kim were recognized as Presbyterian College Junior Fellows for being the top two boys and girls in the Junior class.

Many outstanding groups were recognized and rewarded for their specific help during the 1987-88 school year. The Student Council and Prom Committee were awarded with leadership and service awards. Junior Guides for the year who lent their services to Honors Day and Graduation were Christie Barden, Jason Barrett, Heloise Belarmino, Cindy Causey, Cassandra Corbin, Wanda Cox, Ingrid Evans, Amy Fincher, Allen Freeman, Calvin Gilbert, Nikki Golar, Robbie Guest, Pattie Kim, Tashia Livingston, Brad Marchman, Michelle Mayo, Marcellus Prather, Michael Simmons, Naphaphone Thalongsengchanh, Forrest Tucker, Darren Willis, and David Wilson. Other exceptional students were honored as well — peer counselors, Honor Roll Students, Principal's List students, and students with perfect attendance. It was truly an outstanding day for all those attending at Southwest.

Honoring Excellence

Southwest athletes had another outstanding year, and were honored at the annual All-Sports Banquet sponsored by the Pep Club. Gabriel Burnette began the evening with a welcome, and master of ceremonies was Charles Murphy. Many special awards were given. Coaches of the year were Albert Sharpe and Johnny Higdon. The Zachary Carter Memorial Award for Athlete-of-the-Year was given to Ricky Jones. The Intramural Award for Basketball went to the VOCA Club. Band awards went to Jennifer Jolley, Rosalind Parks, Katie Stokes, Gary Townsend, and Quinton Moore. Pep Club awards went to Gabriel Burnette, Sharon Mims, Charlotte Thomas, Michelle Cuyler, and Zutredia Gary.

The Southwest Reputation Remains High in Academics

And the winner is . . . all Southwest students nominated for a Golden Eagle Award! The Eleventh Annual Golden Eagle Awards were held at the Grand Opera House — sponsored by the Macon Telegraph and News. These awards are given to a student who shows outstanding ability and leadership in their specific category. Southwest was well represented again, and two Southwest students brought Golden Eagles back home. They were Sissy Higingbotham and Sissy Busbee. Individuals nominated were: Rob Steel — Art; Kim Stollenwerck — Citizenship; Latunya Pauldo — Drama; Melanie Search — English Literature; James O'Neal — Foreign Language; P.J. White — Industrial Vocational; Kenn Bivins — Journalism; Sissy Higingbotham — Math; Sissy Busbee — Music; Chuck Pecor — Science; and Christy Peacock — Social Science. Each Golden Eagle winner received the coveted Golden Eagle trophy and a check for $500.

Students at Southwest showed their ability to score exceptionally well on the SAT. Southwest's Star Student for 1988 was Chuck Pecor, who scored a 1400 on the Scholastic Aptitiude Test. He chose his Star Teacher to be his AP English Teacher, Trudy Norris. The top five scorers on the SAT in the school were Chuck Pecor, Jerry Patton, James O'Neal, Sissy Higingbotham, and Craig McAdam. All this demonstrates the incredible talent present to keep Southwest's academic reputation higher than ever.

Southwest Honors First Lady at Special Banquet

It was a night of tears, laughter, gifts and fun as friends, colleagues, and local officials gathered to honor Southwest's First Lady, Gloria Washington, upon her retirement. The dinner was held May 16, 1988 at the Macon Hilton.

The evening commenced when Bobby Jones, Master of Ceremonies, introduced guests which included Macon Mayor Lee Robinson, Emory Greene — Chairman of Bibb County Board of Directors, State Representative Frank Pinkston, Board of Education President Judy Townsend, Superintendent of Schools Thomas Hagler, Associate Superintendents Robert Williams and William Bell, all of whom made proclamations and presentations. These ranged from "Gloria Washington Week" for the city to "Washington Way — the new name for School Road on the SW campus."

The faculty of each building made its own presentation: McEvoy B — a ruby and diamond ring; McEvoy A — a gift certificate; Willingham A — a musical number of "Gloria — She makes our day!" and a "This is Your Life" slide presentation; Willingham B — a humorous performance of the morning announcements and a pin; Vocational Building — a poem and a musical tribute. The Senior class later gave earrings to match the ring presented by McEvoy B. Community friends of Mrs. Washington also joined in and presented her with various gifts. She received roses, books, a charm bracelet, the Washington coat of arms, and other tributes.

Gerald Stuart ended the evening by making the final presentation from the entire Southwest staff and student body. Everyone was eager to see her reaction when Mr. and Mrs. Washington were presented with a $3000 gift certificate to use on a trip to anywhere they wanted.

Mrs. Washington was speechless!

37 Years of Service End

After 37 years of dedicated service to Bibb County's Public Schools, Gloria Washington finally decided to call it quits in 1988. Everyone was sad to see her leave, but showed their love and appreciation with special presentations. During an assembly in her honor, Mrs. Washington was designated to sit in the rocking "Chair of Honor" while Student Council members showed her what occurred at Southwest over the years that she reigned. Then there was a special slide show by Mrs. Judy Moore, and various clubs presented gifts to Mrs. Washington. A special rap group performed, and even attempted to get Mrs. Washington to join in the dance. Mrs. Washington was a vital part of Southwest, and her presence will be greatly missed in the years to follow.

A Day Full of Memories!

It was one of the most eagerly awaited days for the Class of 1988 — Senior Honors Day. Many Seniors had worked very hard to get to this day. The anticipation grew as Seniors arrived in their caps and gowns and waited in supervisions for the call of their group. All tried desperately to get their caps on straight and to keep the tassel out of their face, while at the same time remaining calm. Once they were dressed and ready, they boarded the buses and rode to the Macon City Auditorium. Waiting in the corridors for 10:00 am to come, Seniors shared some last moments with each other talking and reminiscing about the past four years they spent together. Then they entered the auditorium with the Junior Guides to enjoy one of the most regal days of 1988.

A Day For Excellence

Honors Day began with the presentations from organizations outside the school. The American Legion scholarship was given to Kecia Allen. The AKA fraternity presented a scholarship to Wallace Herring. A four year Air Force ROTC scholarship was given to Jeffrey Johnson. The Air Force presented awards to the top math student in the Senior class, Sissy Higingbotham, and the top science student in the class, Chuck Pecor. The Army's National Scholar Athlete Awards were awarded to Olicia Blackmon and Keith Hartness. Weslyan College awarded Angela Puckett a $12,000 scholarship. Melvyn Williams Award winners were Craig McAdam for math and Chuck Pecor for Science. Bela Desai was rewarded for outstanding achievement in American History. The Beta Club's annual Tim Stenson Memorial Scholarship was this year presented to Rhonda Sandifer. Bianca Harmon and LaSonja Bryant both obtained twelve years perfect attendance. Students who obtained a B+ average were awarded the Presidential Academic Fitness Awards. The winner of the Georgia Scholar Award was Chuck Pecor. National Merit Awards went to James O'Neal and Chuck Pecor. The Seniors of the Academic Bowl and Math teams were honored, with special math awards going to Jerry Patton, Sissy Higingbotham, and Craig McAdam. Special presentations were made for the school's three publications and music and chorus members. Others recognized were Senior Play members, class officers, club presidents, Golden Eagle winners, and Senior Superlatives. The top two students of the Senior Class, Chuck Pecor and Sissy Higingbotham, were recognized as well. Seventeen Seniors were nominated for the Principal's Award, which was won by Kimberly Stollenwerck. The day was ended with the performance of "Friends are Friends Forever" by the Senior Class, who then boarded the buses to attend the Senior Luncheon at the Coliseum.

A Last Fling

After the ceremony, Seniors were treated to a special luncheon where a hilarious ten year reunion skit was presented by Student Council. Then the Coliseum was reserved for Seniors to dance the night away. After leaving at 12:00, Seniors stayed together for the special party at Kazooty's, which extended its hours until 2:00 in honor of the Class of '88.

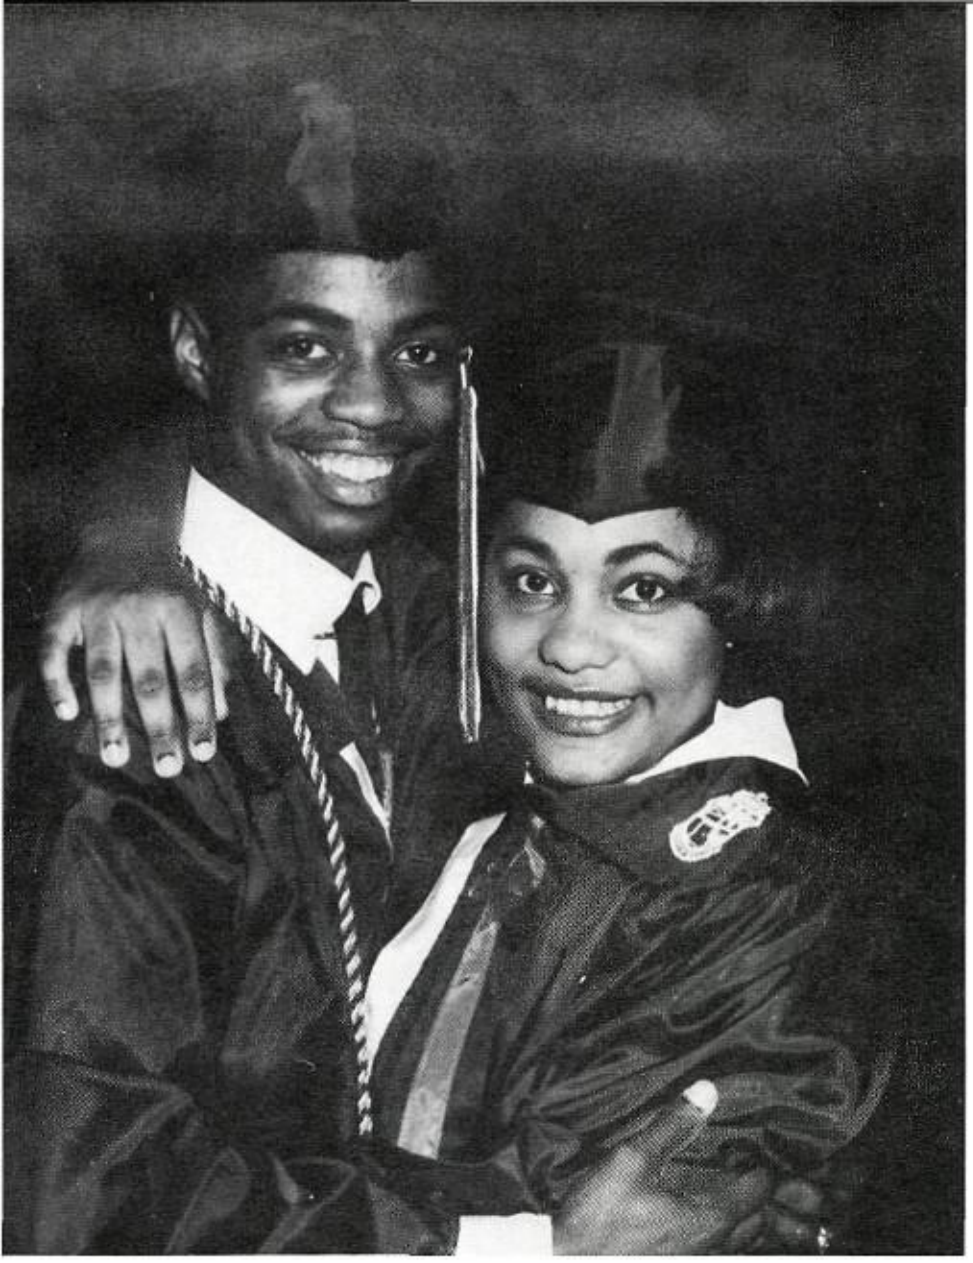
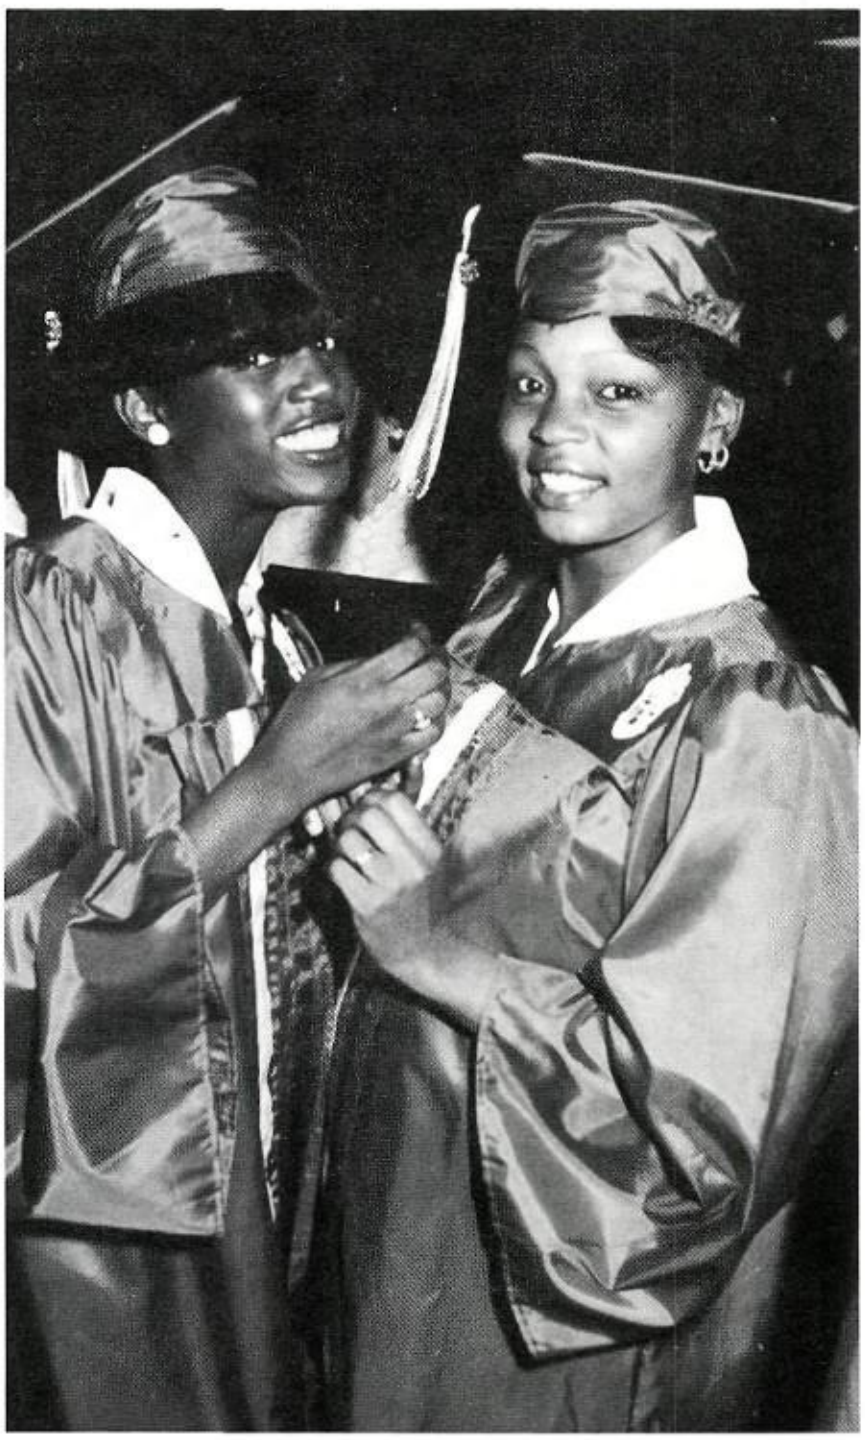
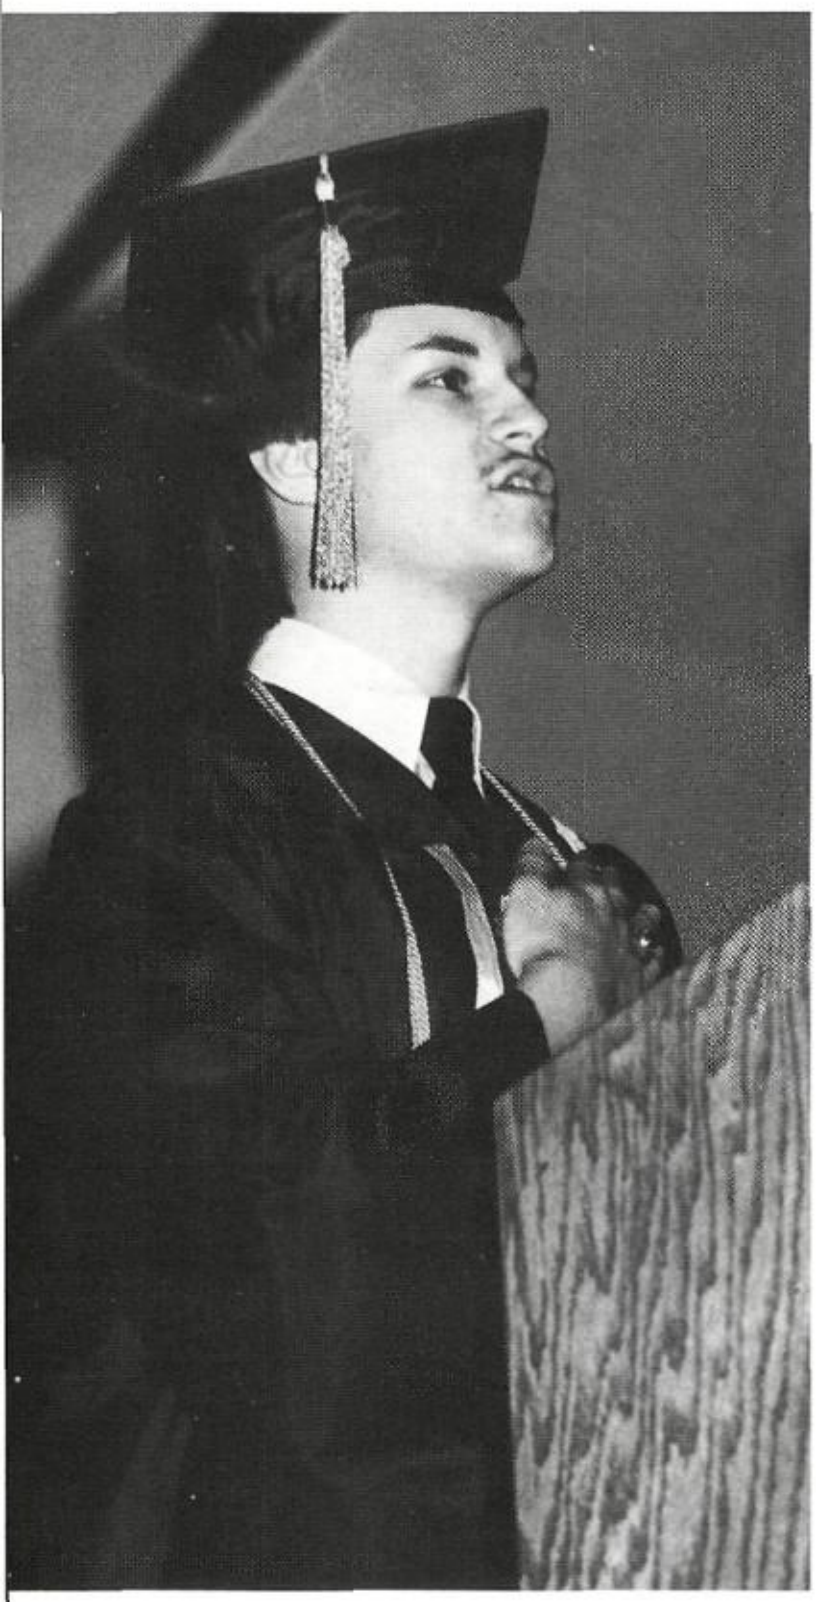
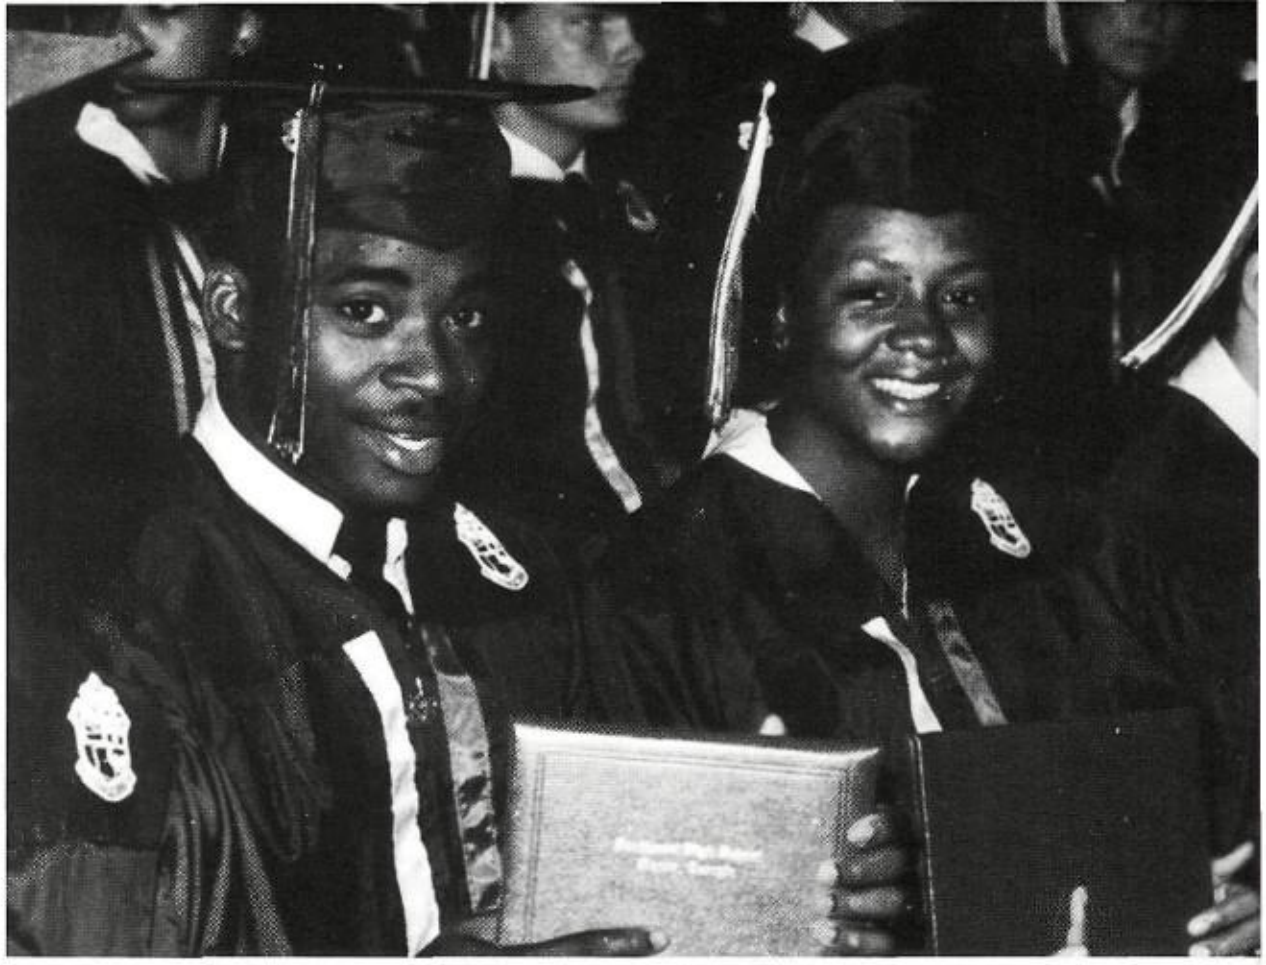
That Long Awaited Day Arrives!

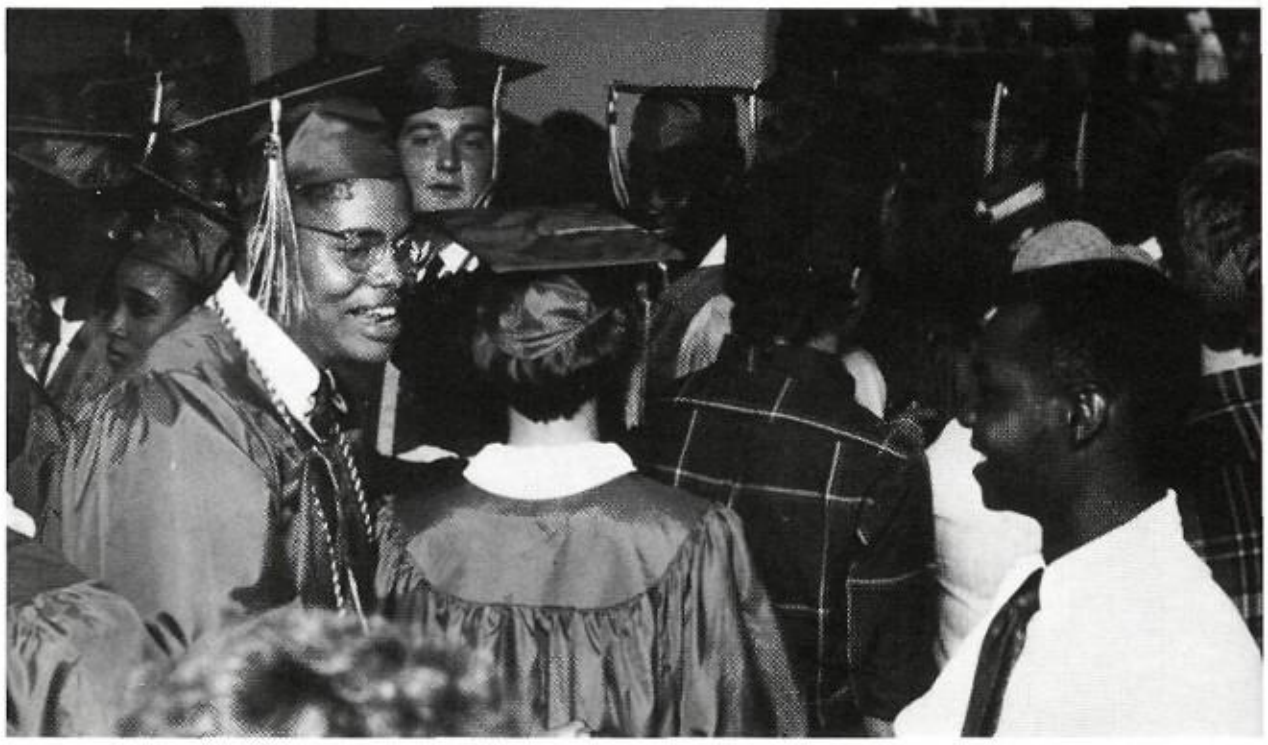
This was the moment that had been anticipated for twelve long years. The height of emotion felt by the members of the Class of 1988 was indescribable. Many were overjoyed that this day had finally arrived, while others shed tears of sorrow because they were leaving some of their closest friends behind. Nerves got to many people as they waited in the corridors — Seniors frantically straightened their caps once more as speakers went over their lines one last time. Others were so excited — they could hardly wait to take that walk into the Coliseum. Parents, family, and friends waited anxiously to see where their graduates had finally arrived — the end of their childhood and the beginning of their lives as adults.











Joy & Sorrow

The graduation exercises began with the National Anthem and the Processional of the Seniors. The feeling experienced by the Seniors as they walked in, hearing the cheering and roaring of their families and friends, was unforgettable. James O'Neal began the ceremony with the Pledge of Allegiance, then Class President Glenetrice Gordon gave an inspiring invocation. The three speakers, Chuck Pecor, Sissy Higingbotham, and Jeffrey Johnson followed. The presentation of diplomas by Southwest faculty and Board members was next. The Senior Class then sang "Friends are Friends Forever." It was a night of mixed emotions, as many Seniors shed tears of joy and sorrow as they recessed into the corridors to say good-bye to many of their dearest friends of the past twelve years.

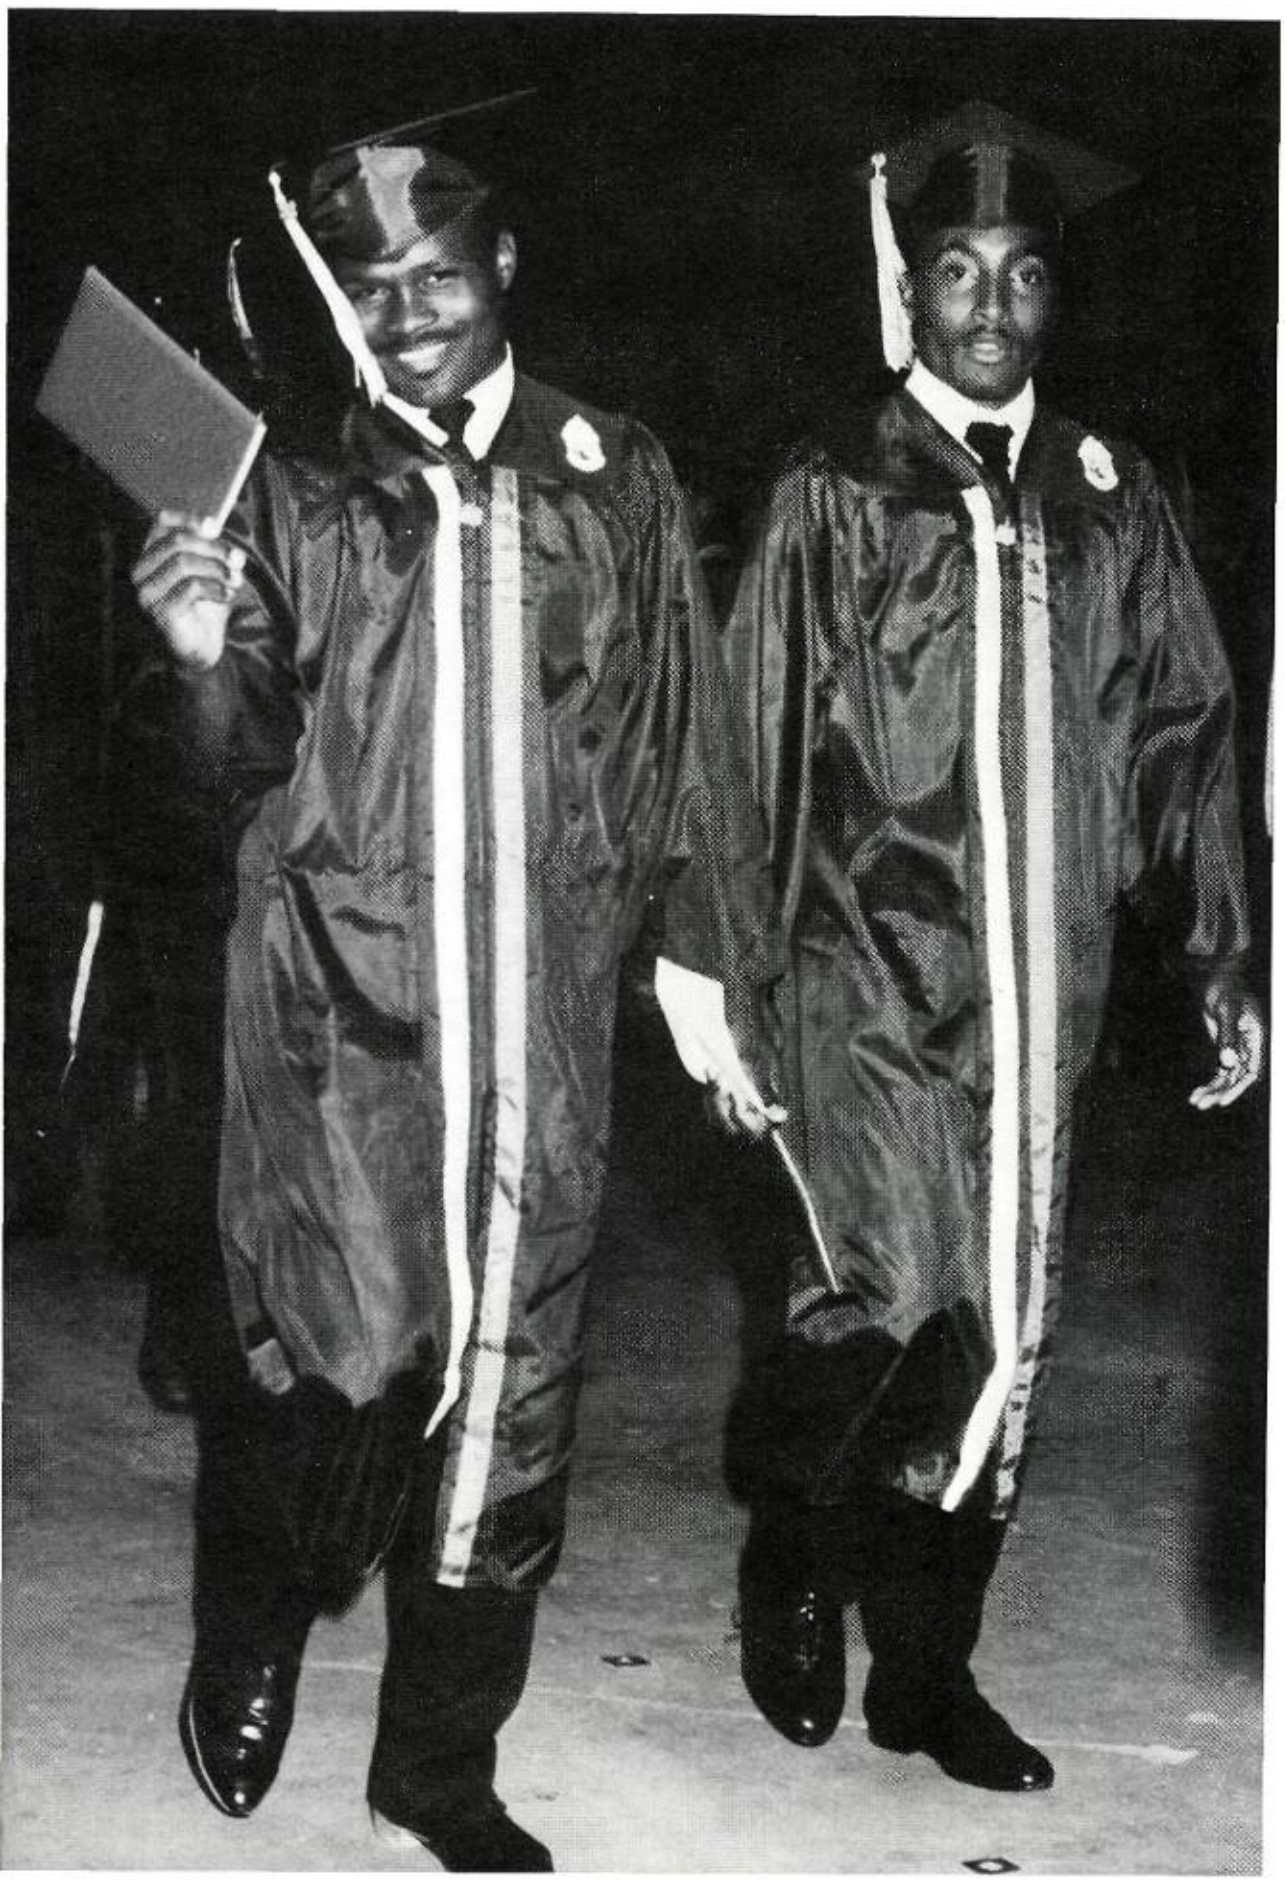
12 Years Completed!

The Southwest High Class of 1988 held its graduation ceremony on Tuesday, June 7, at 8:15 pm in the Macon Coliseum. The three class speakers addressed everyone in attendance. First Speaker, Chuck Pecor, told the graduates that they were not ending their education, but only beginning it. Second Speaker, Sissy Higingbotham, discussed the fact that graduates made the friendships that will last a lifetime, and should not be taken for granted. Third Speaker, Jeffrey Johnson, revealed that the Senior year was anything that you wanted it to be, as the rest of your life is.



Year in Review

This was a year of many changes. Presidential campaigns dominated the news. Hopefuls Joe Bidon and Gary Hart were forced to withdraw early for different reasons. Jesse Jackson gave Michael Dukakis a tough run for the Democratic Nomination. George Bush edged out the competition to become the Republican Candidate. The Stock Market took one of the biggest plunges ever on Black Monday, October 19, 1987. Jessica Hahn posed for Playboy as the PTL scandal continued. Pope John Paul II made his trek across the United States while NFL Players were striking for more money. The Writers' Guild of America was also on the striking scene as audiences continued to watch reruns. Dan Rather of CBS News and George Bush made Headline News of their own after their unforgettable interview.

The Staff's Life Cycle

The wild, wacky, and wonderful Spirit of '88 Staff began to work on this year's book in June of 1987 as the new Seniors had their "official" pictures made — then on to Tech for the Workshop. Collections, class pictures, and on it went. The phrase "Deadlines Amuse Me" became the slogan as the staff worked long, hard hours to produce Red, White, Blue, and You. "Chris, we need some pictures of today's assembly." "Dale, did you take the 'girlie shots', or was it Mr. Crowder or Mr. Johnson?" "Pattie, we need you on the computer with Sis!" "Eight dollars over? Wanda are you serious?! Count it again . . . SHANNON, HELP!" "Okay, you people in the back of the room — are the organization layouts done?" "Christie, you just gotta do it till you get it right! Julie will help!" "April, there aren't that many boys in the world to keep you and Jennifer yakking this long — get with it!" "Sissy, if you eat one more chocolate bunny head this early in the morning, you or I, one, will barf!" "Jennifer, I brought pizza this morning — it's cold, but you want some anyway?" "Mrs. Gibbs, does the library have ANY spare batteries? Ours are all dead!" "Hey, Anthony, what chew want?" "I can't believe Mr. Larry forgot to come to the park — Phlip, you'll have to take the staff picture." "Coach, this is Ms. Fruitcake in the Annual Staff room; I need the names of . . . " And on it went until finally — Yeeeehawww! The last shipment was in the mail. But only after the Class of '89 had its official Senior pictures made in June and in August, it's on to Tech —

The members of the 1987-88 Annual Staff were Christie Abbott, Julie Cannon, Rachel Cornelius, Tony Crowder, Carla Heath, Wallace Herring, Sissy Higingbotham, Wanda Hill, Shannon Huskins, Jeffrey Johnson, Dale Joiner, April Jones, Toshia Jones, Pattie Kim, Jennifer Ligon, Tashia Livingston, Barbara Lundy, Jennifer Patterson, B.J. Fulfillment of a Dream

When I was confronted with the idea of being Editor of the Spirit of '88, I was overwhelmed with joy. Since the third grade I had dreamed of being offered this opportunity to create a book of my very own, a book that my schoolmates and friends would look at twenty years from now and be proud of. So I set out three years ago to begin learning everything I could to make the Spirit of '88 one of the greatest yearbooks Southwest has ever seen. After my many long hours of working on it, I hope I have succeeded.

This was a year for drastic changes at Southwest. Mrs. Washington stepped down after 37 years, Southeast was created, and the first Freshmen class ever to set foot on this campus — the Class of 1988 — was to be the last Senior class ever to graduate from the true Southwest High School. The theme of this book — Red, White, Blue, and You — illustrates the great spirit, unity, and loyalty that everyone associated with Southwest possesses. It is a special school, and anyone who has any part in it knows that is true.

The task of completing this yearbook had to be one of the most difficult experiences I have ever had in my life. It taught me so much about life and the immense responsiblities that one person can have. The great reward for my hard work and longsuffering paid off, though, when I saw the first copy of this book when it was completed. I would like to thank Mrs. Fugate and Mrs. Phillips for everything they did for me during the past year, because without them this book would have never been completed.

I hope you are as proud of this book you are holding as I am. To you, the very special Class of '88, I present my gift — the Spirit of '88.

The Southwest Spirit

Legions of faces,
Thousands of names,
Memories slowly fade with distance of days.

The electric charge of energy of opening days;
The hundred mingled scents that made the smell of school;
A cacophony of tones: tales of punic wars and recipes and elements of art —
singing in a symphony seeking a magical and ages-old connection — the meeting of the minds
And torrents of people moving through newly-waxed halls.

And voices:
The haunting screams of spirit sticks long lowered;
Touchdown cheers beneath the light of autumn nights long over;
Throbbing roars of frenzied fans in steaming gyms on winter nights half-forgotten.
Halloween goblins and Christmas santas and rollicking rock and roll;
A ton of candy, movie walks, bombs and fires and floods.
And heat. Infernal, seemingly eternal heat.
Always with the lengthening afternoons of spring
A sense of belonging, a pride in accomplishment.
An endless stream of blue flowing across a stage.

A constant. A theme. A continuing presence
An image of graceful poise presiding;
Calm, strong, firm, always
The perfect touch. The needed word. The greater effort.
Always.
Giving, inspiring, encouraging. A single one to set the mark
Thousands hear and follow. Thousands see and strive.

But TIME. At length, "it's time."
The endless seeming span of years suddenly done.
So short when seen from the end.
Legions of faces, thousands of names, memories slowly begin to fade.

In time to come thousands more may walk these halls,
Halls made shrines by learning.
Unseen, but felt, among them will walk the spirit still.
A word, a thought, a gesture that made a difference then will stir the young ones of the young ones
For countless years until the world cannot recall again
A name, a face, a memory of the time we end today.
But the cycle keeps repeating
And the good that's done, unlike memories, will never Fade away.

"He is Just Away"

You cannot say, you must not say
That he is dead. He is just away!
With a cheery smile
and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be,
since he lingers there;
So think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still
as the same, and say
He is not dead, he is just away.
